Senior Graduation 2009

Rector's Address

Good afternoon and welcome: Distinguished guests, staff, parents, friends and students.

Two thousand and nine – the year Michael Jackson died. Michael Jackson's death, like his life was pure showbiz, drama and controversy. Possibly accidentally killed by his doctor, it took three months before he was finally buried. Yet the appeal of Michael Jackson lives on – the posthumously released film, This Is It, has grossed over $200 million in its first two weeks in the USA.

What is it about Michael Jackson that attracts the fans? He burst into stardom as the cutest and most vibrant of the Jackson Five. He became one of the most famous rock stars of our age. Whether you like his music or not, you cannot deny his talent. The albums, videos and shows were riveting and electrifying. As an entertainer and performer he lived up to the title of his greatest album, Thriller.

Over the years he shaped, tinted and altered his appearance into a no-gender, no age, an almost non-human category. The naming of his ranch as Neverland says much. He saw himself as a type of Peter Pan, the eternal boy who never grows up. He seemed genuinely bewildered when his fantasy was challenged in court on charges of abuse. The cute boy who just wanted to remain a boy.

When students begin in Year 9, some have husky breaking voices and pretensions of shaving, but most still have high-pitched voices and hairless legs. What we try to do as your teachers is allow you to be boys while helping you develop into young men. We provide opportunities for play, competition and learning. We try to accompany your physical growth with spiritual growth. Yet herein lies a tension. The same tension played out in the life of Michael Jackson.

The tension is between the demands of preparing to enter the "real" world, the "adult" world and the desire of the boy within each student to remain in Neverland. The "real" world demands choices, qualifications, getting and holding a job, paying off a mortgage and commitment in relationships. The boy within wants to remain in Neverland, playing his way through each day, testing his growing physical attributes against new challenges, chasing novelty and avoiding boredom, looking for Thriller experiences. The art of raising boys is to recognise this tension and the paradoxes it creates.

The paradox of the boy who dons his uniform each day, picks up his bag and sits behind his desk for six classes a day then sits behind the wheel of a car full of his mates and kills himself or them chasing the thriller experience that high speed provides. The paradox of the boy who walks across the stage to collect an award for his talent and effort then is knifed or beaten while partying hard-out chasing the thrill of a cocktail of music, alcohol and drugs.

When the constraints of school uniforms, timetables and rules are removed, the boy re-emerges. Each year bigger, stronger and hairier than in Year 9, and much more of a risk to himself and others. As teachers and parents, we hope and pray that in some way all our guidance, advice and example will help him into his mid-20's. The statistics are not on our side.

Males between the ages of 18 and 24 are the most at-risk group in any country to die in accidents, from suicide or drug abuse. The fact is that experience will be their greatest teacher as they move from their teens into adulthood. Risks will be taken and mistakes will be made before the boy learns there is wisdom in the advice of his parents and teachers. Michael Jackson's Neverland option is ultimately a refusal to face the demands and risks of life, a refusal to grow up – it had its own tragic price.

Last night, Celia Lashlie, author and commentator spoke in this auditorium. Her message to concerned parents of boys is summed up in the title of her book – He'll be OK. Based on her research undertaken in twenty boys' schools like ours around New Zealand, she has good news for boys and those who raise them. It takes time and patience. Boys need to learn that actions have consequences. Don't rescue them. Don't take away their responsibilities. Don't relax the rules. They will grow into fine young men eventually if you do that.

This afternoon we recognize those who have achieved publicly in different areas. However, each of you has achieved in some way or another during this year. You know best what you have achieved here whether you get an award today or not. Was it the best you could have done – only you know that. If it is, then you can be satisfied whether you are a prize winner or not. If it isn't – if you could have been sitting with the prize winners but aren't, then what are you going to do about it next year?

My congratulations to our prize winners. To all those sitting external exams over the next two weeks, try your hardest to achieve to your highest potential, and do not settle for less. To those who are not returning next year, thank you for what you have contributed here – be proud and loyal Old Boys – for you, This is it!

Sectare Fidem.

Head Boy's Address

St Patrick's College Silverstream, man what a school! Although we got mocked for swine flu, we still thought we were cool. We've been through a lot as a Band of Brothers, when one was in trouble we'd watch out for each other. Being at Silverstream I've experienced many good times, here are a few that pop into my mind. Remember every assembly a prayer would be said, nothing beats when Sofara paid out Giles' forehead. We struggled at McEvedy it was down to the wire, but don't worry Hugh Steel, God loves a trier. We've all been asked questions that nobody knows, but that's when we turn to Fr Ringrose. And before every game, across the field we'd stroll, but nothing felt better than the times we beat Coll. Over the years we've heard many great quotes, but Taiso's 'FOR THE CREST' is the one I love most. At times I mucked around in class, a bit of a slacker, but I tried my best in P.E, 'cos I'm scared of Bev Packer. Ope, James and Masi, were that fearsome trio, but I don't think they were as scary as Thompo and Meo. All of these things have made my time at Silverstream a blast, in the future I will reminisce and be happy with the past. I know our time has come, and we shall all leave to discover, but I can honestly say that I wouldn't hesitate to call any of you my brother.

It may be almost all over, but really it's all just about to begin. Tonight the members of the class of 2009 bid each other farewell. There is of course the celebration of achievement, but a certain sorrow, too, as we reflect on what has been, and confront the truth that it really is time for us to go.

Special guests, staff, parents and students. I warmly welcome you all here this evening.

I remember like it was yesterday the nervous walk through the gates and up the driveway on 31 January 2005. But I remember too how quickly we embraced each other as friends, how soon the College became our second home, and how proud we were to claim the crest as our own.

We all came to this school as scrawny, little, cute third formers. Some of us not as small as others ... but, I think, you could definitely say, I was cute! Since those third form days, we have been shaped in our own way to become the men who stand here tonight. From looking up at those massive figures of the likes of Brett Piggott, Matt Luamanu, and Julius Glasson, we have in turn become those giants; we are today what they were once for us. It seems as though the school shrank around us while we stayed the same.

Personally, coming to this school as a third generation Streamer, I wanted to have a better impact on the school than my grandfather and uncle did, with both of them not even making it to the 5th form. My Grandfather was the school boxing champion in the 4th form and my uncle was in the First XI cricket team in 3rd form, but this was about as far as they got. So to be given the honour of being Head Boy at such a great school, having had old boy relatives who didn't really make the most of their time here, made the moment I got the role, extra special.

The way I think of Silverstream could possibly be summed up into three things:

- Silverstream is pride: Pride in yourself. Pride in your school. But, most of all, pride in your faith. We are a proud Catholic school, with the chapel being the heart of the College, and it is our mana. Even those who are not Catholic themselves are proud of the faith we share at this College.
- Also, Silverstream is passion: if we choose to lead something, we lead it with passion. Whether it be with rugby, cricket, or McEvedy. Whatever it is, we all lead the way. From the supporters' bank, to the boys in the midst of it all, we lead with our hearts.
- Lastly, Silverstream is brotherhood: The slogan of "Band of Brothers" sums up the way we interact, there is a real sense of belonging for every student in our College not just in competitions but in everyday life, in every occasion we stand together, as the band of brothers, the boys in blue and white.

Now throughout our journey here at Silverstream, there have been some very important people that deserve recognition:

Firstly, to the school leaders of 2009, Vincent Ringrose, Liam Sweeney, Christian Lloyd, Francis Hogan, Antony Meiklejohn, Chris Pouwels, Gerard Farrell and the deputy house leaders who were appointed later on in the year. I think you have put great spirit into your roles and I thank you all very much for your efforts.

To all members of the staff: I believe that your hard work and support does not always receive the recognition it should, but we deeply appreciate all that you have taught us. You have played a big part in our lives over the past five years from doing things like giving us extensions, to guiding us through our own personal issues. Thank you all very much.

Special thanks to Mrs Libby Kirton and Miss Chanel Wright. Mrs Kirton you've been a great help to all Year 13's working very hard in the background but remaining a positive and compassionate person, and Miss Wright thank you for your spiritual guidance and encouraging manner as the school chaplain. A very sincere thank you to you both.

To Mr. Phillip Mahoney, Mr. Tony Giles and Mr. David Bowles. Thank you for your leadership this year, it has been great working with you and I wish you all the best in the running of the College.

To Mr Ritchie, Ms Scholes, and the team of boarding supervisors. You've all been like second parents to the boarders and on behalf of them, I thank you for developing us to become the young men we are today.

To our parents and guardians: It's pretty obvious that without you, we would not be here tonight. Being at Stream has not only provided us with opportunities, but also has fulfilled your own hopes and dreams too. Thank you very much for your never ending love and support over the years and for never giving up on us.

And finally, to the year 13 of 2009, I would like to personally thank you for being a part of my life over the past years. I have come to know you all so well and I'll say it again that I wouldn't hesitate to call any of you my brother.

Young men, upon your shoulders the weight of Silverstream pride and honour rests heavily. I want you to always remember that the total commitment and hardened mental attitude of a Streamer should make you different from the others.

Farewell my brothers, best of luck for the future and until we meet again, Sectare Fidem.

Attila Ropati-Va'a

Parents and Friends

The Parents and Friends Committee works collectively each year to make a tangible contribution through fund raising activities and provides an ideal opportunity for active support to the life of the College.

The Entertainment Book remains a stalwart fundraiser each year and continues to be well supported. As well as offering huge discounts it generates approximately $3,000 profit each year for the College.

Workday monies generating approximately $15,000 each year have contributed towards the funding of data projectors in classrooms and new sports facilities such as the upgrade of the outdoor basketball court.

An exciting project for the committee during 2009 was the establishment of the new College Notice Board standing very grand in 'Stream' colours at the entrance to the College. A hugely successful resource in keeping students, parents and the local community up to date on main events happening at the College.

Time to give back, Parents & Friends organised a most successful presentation by international best selling writer, Celia Lashlie on: 'He'll Be OK: Growing Gorgeous Boys into Good Men'. Held in the College Hall, this hugely supported event was enjoyed by everyone listening to the no nonsense approach, wit and charm of a great story teller, revealing what goes on inside the world of adolescent boys.

Old Boys' Association

Two thousand and nine has been a busy year for old boys of Silverstream and Wellington. Following the President's drive for new blood, the following people were elected to the executive following the Annual General Meeting:

Chris McCarthy, T 72-76 President,
Evan Bayly, T 70-74 Vice President, SPCOB Website,
George Collins, S 80-84 Secretary,
Gary Lewis, S 65-68 Treasurer,
Wade Hall, S 97-01,
John Klaphake, T 70-74 Patsman editor,
Mike Fox, T 71-74,
Nelson Nunns, T 41-46,
Phillip Reeve, S 80-84,
Felix Kane, S 42-45,
Matt Hunt, T 91-95,
Simon Hopkins, T 76-80,
Cormac Denton, S 00-01,
Edwin Meachen, T 93-97.

In November we had a successful annual old boys dinner at St Patrick's College, Wellington with over 300 people attending. The guest speaker was Joe Karam (S64-68), who spoke about his time at Silverstream, his sporting career and touched briefly on his involvement with the David Bain case. The Old Boy of the Year was Union Advocate John Ryall (S67-71) and Rectors Mr. Mahoney and Fr. Martin, SM reported on their respective schools. Discussions are currently in place to have the annual dinner for 2010 in Silverstream, given that Town will be celebrating 125 years.

Silverstream has had various projects with the Old Boys' Association this year. Following the appointment of Wade Hall as Silverstream's representative on the executive, several projects were achieved. Wade Hall is in regular contact with the Rector, Mr. Mahoney and Senior College Management. Early projects have included the sponsorship of flags for the Sports Pavilion, a commitment for artwork in the conference centre and a memorial plaque for the late Francis Maloney, which is to be placed into the chapel early 2010. (Sir) Francis Maloney, was a former resident of the college and between 1976 and 2000, Mr. Maloney cared for the college chapel and school tuck shop.

Already in 2010, discussions are in place for the sponsorship of school banners, new school signage and the development of an archives room to preserve historical records and documents.

We are always looking at different ways of communicating with old boys. A "Facebook" page has been set up and the official website is currently undergoing changes. Secretary George Collins is proactive in speaking to new graduates of each college and our marketing campaign involving old boy t-shirts has proved popular with old boys both young and old. We have managed to photograph well-known old boys and former Rectors all throughout the world.

Silverstream lost an old boy stalwart in 2009. Felix Kane who served for many years on the old boy's association executive passed away after a long illness. Felix was at Silverstream between 1942 and 1945. His funeral was held at his home parish of Titahi Bay and he was buried in Whenua Tapu. His funeral was well attended by Year 9 and 10 students, as well as the Rector, Mrs. Mahoney and Mr. O'Leary. Silverstream and Town boys gave Felix a powerful Haka, as pallbearers carried him to the hearse.

Felix Kane RIP

Silverstream 1942–1945

Old boy stalwart, Mr Felix Kane died at the Mary Potter Hospice in Wellington on Wednesday the second of December, 2009.

Felix Kane left Silverstream in 1945 and was almost immediately involved in the Old Boys' Association. In February 1946, Felix was asked to help organize a Junior Old Boys' dance in St Francis' Hall which was held in August of that year. Felix was then invited to join the Old Boys' Association Executive. Felix was a nominee of Maurice "Veritas" McIntyre who had preferred to complete a law degree at Victoria University rather than continue on the executive committee.

Over the years Felix has acted or filled in as secretary and treasurer and served as chairman when the president was a position of honour and was not required to attend executive meetings. For 20 years until 2006 Felix was secretary/treasurer until Gary Lewis was appointed treasurer that year and Silverstream Representative, Wade Hall, became secretary, George Collins assumed that position in 2008.

Felix and his wife Louie were secretaries of the 1956 Stream Jubilee Committee under the chairmanship of President, Bart Cahill. For that service, he was given Life

Membership of the Old Boys' Association (and his wife a silver tea service). Felix was part of the Stream Jubilee Committees of 1981, 1991 and 2006 and was a member of the Chapel Appeal Committee. For many years, Felix was editor of Patsman and was well-known in his service to this news forum for old boys.

Beyond the Association Felix served on several boards and committees, mainly Church-associated: founding member, secretary then chairman of the Viard College Board of Trustees and Governors; national secretary then Supreme Knight of the Knights of the Southern Cross, New Zealand; chairman of the St Pius X Home and School Association, chairman of the St Pius X Parish Council; secretary of the Australian Terrier Club.

The Old Boys' Association has lost a great man, someone for whom we all owe a large amount of gratitude; he has been the glue that has kept the Association alive for the last 60 years. We will miss him but he will never forget him. He will be remembered in all of our prayers, Sectare Fidem, Felix.

May his soul and the souls of all the faithful departed, rest in peace.

George Collins (S80-84) Wade Hall (S97-01)

J W Dowling Cup as leader of the winning house, in 2009
Liam Sweeney – Chanel House.

Special Awards

The Te Ara o Tawhaki Cup. Tawhaki was a celebrated hero of Polynesia; his marvellous deeds are still celebrated in song, spoken about in legends, proverbs and prayers. Tawhaki, according to Māori mythology, ascended the heavens and returned with the baskets of knowledge and religion. His name is given to the oceans of Aotearoa, New Zealand – to the Tasman Sea, to the seas on the western side of the North Island and the seas off the eastern and southern coasts of the South Island. They are called the Rough Seas of Tawhaki. The Te Ara o Tawhaki Cup, (the path of Tawhaki), donated by the Ritchie Family, is awarded to a student in Year 13 who has grasped the buckets of knowledge, has navigated through the "Rough Seas" and through great effort on his part has turned his life pathway around to become the person he is today.

The Chanel Award is made to a student who has reached Year 13 and who has shown great persistence and resilience in the face of disadvantage.

The Catholic Foundation Scholarship is awarded to a Year 13 Catholic student from the Archdiocese of Wellington. Students apply from colleges in the geographical area from Kaikoura across to the West Coast in the South Island, north to Levin and Masterton in the North Island. Applicants are considered for their all round qualities together with the potential contribution that he may make to the well being of the church and NZ society in the future. This scholarship is highly sought after and the winner receives financial assistance towards tertiary study.

Te Ara o Tawhaki Cup Year 13 for showing significant personal development
James Antipas.

Andrew Ward.

Catholic Foundation Scholarship

Passionfruit

Jason Pather (year 12)

It was the yoghurt that reminded me. A “new and improved” flavour of yoghurt. I’m not sure how anything can be new and improved. It’s either new or improved, because if it’s improved its not new at all, just improved.

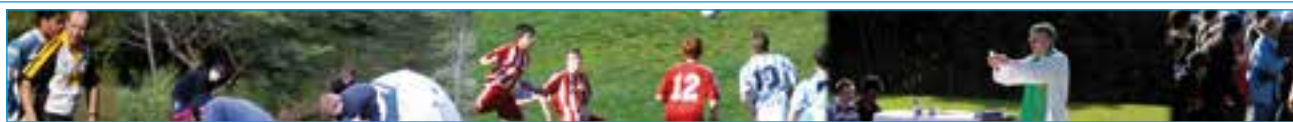

Anyway, this new or improved flavour of yoghurt was passionfruit flavoured, and it bought back all sorts of memories of the time, ages ago, when our family had in its possession a thick, crawling, scary-looking but eternally reliable passionfruit vine.

The fruit it produced looked like the manifestation of disgusting, the epitome of revolting, the embodiment of repulsion, the personification of nausea, the most sickeningly horrendous-looking fruit you could ever imagine, and this was before you cut it open. The insides looked almost indistinguishable from vomit, albeit with small black seeds dispersed amongst it. In fact if it didn’t have the faint, sour smell that seeps out when you cut it in half, I doubt anyone would ever have had the guts to sink their teeth into one of them. Actually it is not possible to sink your teeth into one of these fruits because it would explode and cover your face with a thick layer of preposterously multicoloured pulp.

I genuinely believe that there are a few colours that have not yet been named that can be found within a passionfruit – from a kind of luminous, orange-ish purple to a deadly, venomous green/yellow. Isaac Newton invented indigo simply because he wanted to, so I think it is reasonable for someone to invent a few colours to describe a passionfruit. It is not unlike bungy-jumping when you first consume a spoonful of passionfruit – you really have no idea what you’re in for.

Passionfruit was definitely invented on the Seventh day when God was resting, because he did not simply pour every colour he could reach into the same fruit. Look at an apple – inside, it’s white. A banana? Yellow. An orange? Well that’s obvious, but a passionfruit is simply indescribable, inexpressible, indefinable, impalpable, intangible, indistinct, insubstantial. There are bright orange tentacles in the fruit that hold the rest of the pulp in. You generally have to break all four of them before you can successfully procure a spoonful, because these tentacles have the grip of death and do not give in until every last one of them is destroyed. However, there is a very good reason for this. Once you have passed the various sensory tribulations and finally pop a spoonful of passionfruit into your mouth, you explode. Well, your tastebuds do anyway, because passionfruit is the most sweet, juicy, sour, bitter, sugary, delicious fruit you will ever taste.

Eating passionfruit is an event, where you realise that everything that you have tasted up to that point is null and void. You truly eat passionfruit. The yoghurt is not so great though.

Guest Speakers for 2009

The department welcomed into the College a diversified range of speakers.

- Caritas provided us with two presentations in 2009; semester one saw Catherine Gibbs introduce us to a representative from Tanzania, who discussed how generational help has made village life and education manageable. In semester two we were introduced to the reconciliation process taking place in Central America.

- The Apostolic Nuncio made a visit in semester one, and spoke to the years 12 and 13 students on the role of the Vatican as an international actor. The Apostolic Nuncio was a most engaging speaker.
- Vocations week saw Fr John Greally and Fr Patrick Bridgman come in and spend time with the years 12 and 13 students, class discussion was vibrant, and the usual questions around celibacy were addressed.
- Fr Kevin Hennessy CP spent a day on self motivation early in semester one. This was especially beneficial to years 9 and 10 students. Students were given positive means to help develop their own goals for learning and life.

- Fr Brendan Connell CP visited the College for a week in June. Time was spent delivering a seminar to the diocese and that was followed by a staff reflection day. This day included the idea of developing the "I Thee Thou" process and journeying with the student in a relationship model of teaching and learning. Fr Connell also looked at the significance of the Marist Charism within our role as teachers at a Marist College. Fr Brendan spent two days with the senior students discussing models of leadership and how to share the load in life. Most effective.
- Years 11 and 12 gifted and talented students within the RS department had a day with Dr Peter Vardy, (Heythrop College, London) the discussion revolved around ethics and nano technology. This day was of immense benefit to the group.
- Archdiocesan Youth team visited in November, essentially with the year 13 leavers. This was a day for students to reflect and then look to building bridges into the wider faith community as young adults.

Community Action

Shrove Tuesday saw a mix of junior and senior students provide pancakes and cream as a fund raiser for St Vincent de Paul.

The bring a can for the St Vincent de Paul and the wider community saw some 3,000 cans brought into the College; competition was heightened when the cans were counted daily.

For Lent this year the students placed three crosses at the front fence to indicate to the wider community that we, as a Catholic community, were moving into the heart of our faith and liturgical year: The Easter Tridium.

Assumption

This year the College took to the sidewalk and followed our College banner and Head Boy in a walk to the parish church to celebrate the Assumption Mass. The parish welcomed several retired Marist priests to concelebrate the mass with Fr John Greally. We were blessed with a mild winter afternoon for the walk.

O'Shea Shield

What an experience, truly a whole College effort, cross curricular and fierce competition amongst the participating Colleges. The college was placed second equal with St Mary's Wellington.

Leadership Day for Yr 10 students

This was held in December 2008. A programme for the Yr 10 students introducing them to the role of Caritas within the Catholic Church.

Catholic Conference "Be the Change"

The College was well represented by Acting Rector Giles, four students from across three year levels, (Chris Dunnage – yr 11: James Scoon – yr 12: Gerard Farrell and Vincent Ringrose both yr 13). Feedback from these students was positive and empowering. As HOD it was an opportunity to revisit the foundations of our Catholic Education, options for the less advantaged. Educationally speaking it was reassuring to know that we at St Patrick's are offering a challenging educational programme in Religious Studies, taking into account the need for ecumenical understanding across all faith traditions.

Blake Art Awards Australia

These awards are specifically for Religious Art. Four students took part and, whilst not placed, the experience and self expression was of real value to the students.

Liturgy

Gerard Farrell and James Scoon attended a teaching day at the Catholic Education Office in Wellington to learn the protocols of delivering a Liturgy of the Word with the Eucharist. This was to bridge a year 13 student into parish liturgy and a year 12 student into devolving the knowledge and practice within the student body for the times we are without an ordained priest.

Years 12 and 13 lead the Ash Wednesday and Easter Liturgies. It was very heart warming to see the senior students put together a constructed scene. The circular saw buzzing in the chapel to make the tomb was truly wonderful; students' skills taking ownership of the Liturgy.

Leadership of the weekly Eucharistic devotion has now passed to student leaders assisted by other members of the College community.

The Boarders' Mass, this year, became part of the parish. We are privileged to have so many strong faith filled students to do the readings, serve and participate fully in the weekly Mass.

In term 3 Fr Greally began saying Mass each Wednesday. As the term progressed more staff and students attended. It is hoped to keep this tradition going in 2010.

Fr Greally also came regularly to be in the classroom with the students and to provide Reconciliation for staff and students alike.

Library

The library has again been a busy and well-used place with an increase in the number of class bookings and the normal high usage at interval and lunchtime, particularly during winter when the library wall heaters make for a most welcoming environment. Issues of library material are up and all types of library resources are more regularly browsed.

The room adjoining the office is now a scholars' study with four computers available, providing a quiet environment for study and concentration.

Highlights:

Eager winners

- A competition in May for a popular Robert Muchamore book and T-shirt.
- Library Week in August which was celebrated with a lively, fun-filled lunchtime quiz held in conjunction with Upper Hutt City Library and well-attended by seven teams of four students. The winning team (with an astonishingly long name which was abbreviated to LTBV) received a movie voucher each.
- The donation of six novels by old boy and local author Pat Whitaker.

Thanks

I extend my thanks to all who have assisted in the operation of the Library this year with:

- issues and returns;
- general tidying up and helpfulness;
- stock-taking and the huge end-of-year shelf washing exercise.

Satisfied clientel

It all culminates in the Library being a well-utilised and comfortable destination for students as reflected by the quotes.

"The library is a good place to hang out. I can catch up with my friends at lunchtime and morning tea and the librarian always gets in books that I like to read." – Michael Stephens TRIDT

"Yay library." – Jason Gowenlock MARTO

"The library is a good environment for scholar students like me. I find it easier to study there and find the resources I need." – Tiwi Davies TRIAK

"The library. A haven where gems of wisdom and pearls of knowledge are found. A place where an adventure and a journey are discovered in the depths of every page" – Tyler Wikitera-Kil CHANP

"The library is an exponential source of written resources in our school" – CJ Hurrell CHAHS

"The library is quite intriguing and warm in the winter" – Ryan Donohue PATSL

"Great place for cards. Great place for friends. And we use it for books too" – Christian Dixon-McIvor CHAAP and Joe Chetcuti TRIGH

"A welcoming place to relax and unwind" – Jacob O'Halloran MARHV

"A homely atmosphere to grab a great read" – Sheldon Wikitera-Kil CHAHS

Mathematics

This year the Mathematics Department consolidated its day-to-day practice with an all-staff meeting every Monday afternoon after school. We did this to promote discussion and communication among maths teachers. It is too easy to rely on email and other such electronic media to promote team work when in fact they often promote the opposite. Talking face-to-face was revolutionary but typical of the department.

We also took the opportunity to discuss what we were doing that related to the new curriculum. We introduced three levels of attainment in Year 9 algebra and this appeared to have the desired motivating effect on the boys. In the senior school the excellence classes at Y12 and Y11 continued to develop. Despite large numbers in the 12MEX class the momentum was very satisfying, with the boys regularly attaining excellence or merit results.

On a personal note, my return to a regular classroom was very positive. I was surprised at the extra level of stress that was taken from me when I when I returned to a "home classroom" after having to move around the school to teach my classes for the last two years. Teaching is a full-on job with no respite when the boys come in. Having to race around a school to beat the boys to that next lesson is not desirable.

The external NCEA exams changed format this year and we did our best to prepare the boys at Level 1, in particular, as it was their first year. The exams do appear to be significantly different but ultimately fair – it will be interesting to see how our boys coped. I would expect them to meet the challenge head on!

Next year we are looking to reduce the amount of assessment at junior levels. The introduction of National Standards at primary school means students may now be so assessed they never get any opportunity to learn and explore – this is the theme we will explore ourselves in 2010. For the seniors it will be business as usual as we adapt to the new assessment style and the new curriculum.

Public Speaking

The pattern established in recent years of less involvement continued this year as other activities and pressure of studies seemed to take up more of our students time. It has been suggested that the way to restore student involvement is through many quick events mostly at lunchtime like 20/20 cricket. At coaches' meetings the subject of commitment has been discussed and the feeling is that it will be hard to return to the large number of debating teams we had some years ago. Certainly the competition for the James and Emery Cups for junior public speaking has benefited by being placed as part of the school programme and everyone makes an attempt at a speech. The same thing maybe done for the Gallagher Cup for Oratory. The key to success is practising the skill so that the speakers can see the benefit for themselves in improving knowledge, confidence and enjoyment. Finding time in the activity packed school day is the real issue.

One success story has been the dedication and improvement of the Premier A Debating team. This young team showed persistence in regular training and competed successfully in the top grade even to reach the grade playoffs.

The team members also helped by regular adjudication of junior debates at home and at other colleges. In the Certificate grades Tim Scanlan and Robert Whitefield showed diligence and promise right through the season.

In early September Chris Ingram represented the College at the junior speech competition run by the WSU. Speaking on the topic of child exploitation in the production of cheap goods for market he was highly commended and the fact he also made his own way to the event was noted by the organisers.

The O'Shea Shield

The 64th event took place over the weekend of 9th and 10th of May at St Mary's college, Wellington. This competition was started by the federation of Catholic Clubs to promote public speaking in the Wellington Archdiocese in the early 1940's. The organisers could never have dreamed how successful it was to become. A large number of prominent people in the media ,finance and the law in New Zealand have had O'Shea experience. Seventeen colleges arrived at the host college to compete in a variety of speech activities. Garin College comes across the Strait from Nelson and is about to chalk up the first decade of its existence.

Our team began its training in early March and both team members and coaches put in a lot of time in preparation. We turned up on the day hoping only for an honest performance and in the result we did better than expected.

The Powheri was held on the space outside the Gym and to everyone's relief after a very wet Friday , Saturday dawned fine and dry. The speeches of welcome were long and sincere. After this as is traditional we repaired to hear the debates in the tower block. Silverstream debated with St John's on the topic 'that now is the time for peace'. The St John's team scoped the topic very widely and consequently were hard to pin down regarding a core argument. The Silverstream team was made up of Liam Sweeney, Nethran Pathmanathan and Dylan Van Opdorp.

The whole debate took place against a background of the inauguration of the new American President Barac Obama and his eloquent appeal for a new start in peace and trust in world politics. That must be left for history to judge but both teams explored the issues of trade rivalry, terrorism and injustice in the world. In the end Silverstream was declared the winner with Dylan the top speaker. The adjudicator was Neil Millar , a NZ representative debater.

Zac Ringrose delivered the junior speech in front of a packed audience in the media theatre. It's always difficult to speak to an audience towering above you but Zac did magnificently and the many family members present must have been proud of him. His topic was the highs and lows of being a fervent Wellington Sports supporter.

Zac must have come within a whisker of taking the top honours in his section.

The Senior Oration

This was delivered by Nethran and his theme attempted to explain the idea of violence in the name of religion.

Terrorism has struck in Mumbai in India and the apparent motive had something to do with religion. He reflected that peace, justice and harmony should be the drivers to religious zeal not indiscriminate violence.

Nations of the world should unite to ban killing innocents to create terror for political ends.

The drama created by Serena and Jessica contrasted two families and their attitudes to wealth and possessions. The sustainability theme of sharing the world's goods came in, albeit, a little indirectly. Team members were Attila Ropati Va'a, Francis Hogan, Keegan West and Matthew Mellor-Killalea

The Scripture reader was Roneil Kintanar and in the old College hall he did well reading, sincerely, clearly and distinctly from St John's Gospel.

The Impromptu Speech was again given by Roneil on the topic, 'Having a good attitude'. He developed his ideas really well and how a good attitude can bring success. 'Attitude often determines altitude in life'.

The Religious Questions

The task of the team was to answer questions on the NZ Catholic Bishops' Document on the environment, and ethics for life. The team did extremely well speaking lucidly, accurately and with a sense of humour. It deserved the top mark it received. Team members were Vincent Ringrose, Chris Pouwels, James Scoon, Matthew Mellor-Killalea and Philip Filipo.

Mass was celebrated at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart presided over by Archbishop John Dew; the assembled students responded wonderfully. Following the Mass the prizegiving took place and because of the consistency of the team scores we were awarded the Viard Cup. Next year the event will be held at New Plymouth hosted by Sacred Heart Team captains were Liam Sweeney and Roneil Kintanar. Staff coaches were Mrs J.Law, Miss J.Radich, Mr S.Fordyce, Mr M.Cole, Mr D.Boyle, Ms A.Pope and Miss S.Lawrence and Mrs E.Kirton.

The Orations for the Gallagher Cup

On August 21st the College Oratory contests took place for the Gallagher and Meo Cups. There was only a small number of speeches as many who initially registered did not in the end produce a speech.

Roneil Kintanar

Spoke in favour of overseas countries breaking the cycle of poverty by a little capitalist self help. This was conceived as a working model better for human dignity than charity and handouts. It involves setting up a bank to issue small business loans. People are being lifted out of poverty in the wake of a bitter civil war.

James Scoon

In this speech James described the journey of a young woman caught up in the Rowandan genocide and the murders of her family but she found through prayer a way to forgive the murderers of her family. The message was that forgiveness can in the end achieve more than vengeful payback.

Nethran Pathmanathan

The Gallagher Cup was won this year by Roneil Kintanar and his speech was highly praised by the adjudicator Dr Robin Fenwick.

The Intermediate Cup for Oratory (the Meo Cup)

Tim Scanlan

Vividly described his experience of fear and how he overcame it. The fear in question was of making his first parachute jump. He had in his mind the things that can go wrong. However he faced the challenge and overcame his fears and made the jump. Tim described it as a life changing experience.

Michael McAdam

Spoke on the new cult of the suicide bomber. He traced its origins to the Kamikaze pilots of the Second World Wars and the Tamil Tigers in Sri Lanka and now in the middle east it has become a badge of honour. He showed how weak and often vulnerable people were brain washed and led to don the belt with the high explosives and unleashed on their targets.

Sean Stack

Selected the historical figure of Lord Nelson of Trafalgar. He led his men from the front and was exposed to the same dangers as his sailors. He fell wounded but not before his bravery had inspired his forces to victory.

In the judgement Mike McAdam was chosen as the winner of the Meo Cup, producing the speech that had the most elements of oratory: to proclaim something and outline a course of action.

The McLeod Cup for Senior Prepared Speech

Nethran Pathmanathan

Taking his theme from the then current bad news about a global recession in the wake of the financial collapses in the USA. He stated that compared to real poverty and economic bungling in developing countries, NZ with its minor recession was not too badly off. We should count our lucky stars and maybe we should welcome more immigrants as a source of capital, labour and new creative ideas.

Casey Diver

Explored the problem of teens and alcohol. Teens do not have the physical or emotional maturity to handle liberal attitudes to alcohol. Many recent road tragedies testify to this fact. So Casey sees sense in the announced plans to further restrict the over the counter sales of alcoholic drinks and even raise the driving age.

James Gilchrist

Described the difficult process of teaching himself the guitar. He made progress but still felt frustrated at the slow pace of improvement. He then decided to get a professional tutor and by that saved his goal of learning music and make further progress. The lesson is that even with self determination we do need help to make progress.

Roneil Kintanar

Asked the question, "What is humour?" Everyone has a different answer. Often it is the person we are laughing at rather than the topic. This was funny speech and one delivered 'off the cuff'. He called it a 'fast food' speech.

Nicholas Jordan

Not one to shy away from the big issues got into the global warming question. Is the earth warming or cooling? He did not know. If a problem exists, is it man made (antropogenic) or is it a natural thing based on the varying heat of the sun? He did not know. So that is why the public, by and large, are not excited by the question.

Alastair Soja

Gave a speech on the recent death of the famous musical star and dancer Michael Jackson.

The event received huge international attention. He was the first black entertainer to reach an iconic status.

There was much controversy in his life but no can deny the impact he had on modern popular music. This was a very good speech on a meaningful topic.

James Scoon

Gave his speech on the habits of his cat "Monty". He is a demanding but personable cat and it takes a very tolerable master to put up with its antics.

The McLeod Cup was awarded by recent Old Boy Richard Law to James Scoon for a well designed, light hearted and funny speech.

The James and Emery Cups for Junior Prepared Speech

Year 10 the Emery cup went to Tim Scanlan for a reworking of his speech on 'Fear'. In second place was Chris Ingram with a speech on child abuse while Sean Stack fronted with the speech on Lord Nelson.

Other finalists were Hans Wijaya, Thomas Eton and Finn Prendergast. The judges were Mr Bowles, Mrs Kirton and Liam Sweeney.

The Year 9 speeches were also of a high standard and the judges had difficulty in separating out the seven finalists. First place went to ..... However, Celeb Ford came second with his stirring speech on 'Nothing' and third place went to Daniel Mahoney who talked about preparations for his big adventure overseas. The other finalists were Lachlan Watson, Nick Messenger, Edward McElwee, Matthew Bastion and Ryan Thompson.

Duke of Edinburgh's Hillary Award

The Award activities went well this year with pleasing numbers participating and benefiting from the compulsory skills, service, sport and expedition requirements. The highlight for most boys were the expeditions and these adventures were quite enjoyable even if physically demanding under the regime of "Joe Nav". A lot of time and organisation goes into keeping the award programme going and we wish to thank those teachers who did the work of marking the reports and organising the tramps and generally doing the paper work. Traditionally, boys enrol in February and start their monitored activities in the period March to August. For various reasons we could not keep to the announced timetable this year and this problem should be corrected next year. About 30 students enrolled for bronze and 19 completed the programme. There were 18 silvers enrolled and 12 completed their activities and received their certificates. Despite the initial briefings some boys join up thinking that the College will organise all their activities for them. This is not the case : the award is all about individual initiative and must be largely self driven when it comes to finding a new skill and undertaking worthwhile community service.

HRH Prince Edward was visiting the capital and the occasion was taken to present the Gold Award to many students from all over the North Island. The ceremony took place at St Patrick's Wellington as Government House is under repair. Among the recipients were Daniel Rood, Michael McNair, sadly Jamie Clark and Richard Law could not make the presentation ceremony because of university examinations.

The Gold Award Expedition in Nelson Lakes National Park

On Saturday April 11, Easter Saturday all preparations and arrangements had been made and with some hesitations in the half light of the early morning parents arrived at the College to drop their sons off with their heavy packs. Mr Watson soon arrived with the College Van and we loaded up. We also had Mr David Jordan father of Nicholas with us as a parent supervisor. The sun was well up when we reached central Wellington and the Blue Bridge ferry terminal. We checked in and we then had to wait. Matt Richardson soon took out a rugby ball for throwing around in the car park. It was intriguing to see old boy Sam Belcher handling the luggage and boarding passengers. Soon the gates were open for embarking on the ship. The van drove onto the lower deck and got chained down. The first half hour was spent exploring the various decks. By now everyone was aware that the great adventure had begun. Sailing out of the sunny harbour with the familiar signs of the city visible was a new experience for some. It was a smooth trip across the strait and then through the Sounds until we arrived at the small port of Picton.

The arrangement was to meet Joe Nav on arrival and he only made the rendezvous, courtesy of some good neighbours from Nelson, who helped him with a mechanical problem. He was present with a small box of grapes. So with some his mates in his car and the rest of us in the college van, driven by Mr Watson, we headed for Blenheim for lunch. We met the golden haired 'Flossy' at the service station near McDonalds. Soon after eats and under the guidance of Joe Nav who once lived in these parts we negotiated our way out of the town. We marvelled at the huge vineyards which stretched endlessly and seemed to go on and on even though we were motoring ahead at 100km. Eventually we arrived at St Arnaud's. The adults opted to take the water taxi to the lake head while Mr Watson and Mr Jordan opted to tramp the first stage with the boys. About a half hour up from the lake head we established camp. We collected wood for a fire and soon the cold drove most of us into sleeping bags. Not before "Chubs" caused a scene with an exploding gas canister which roared out of control but did not disintegrate in the expected explosion. Everyone had retreated to a safe distance.

We woke on Easter Sunday to a heavy frost. Breakfast was followed by a religious service and a hymn and we set off up the valley with heavy packs towards John Tait Hut. There were quite a number of other trampers on the track mostly from Christchurch. We eventually arrived at Travers' Hut. The original plan was to camp along the next leg but because of the newly discovered fire ban we decided to push on to Upper Travers' Hut. A fire would have been desirable in the very cold darkness of the deep valley. It was quite a grunt over this leg of the journey and there were moments of tension. Mr Watson and Mr Boyle soon were in the rear position. As we neared the hut, snow drifts began to appear on the ground.

We spent the night at the hut which was quite populated with some Wellington trampers and climbers. Flossy recognised some of her dental patients. Mr Watson, with technical guidance from some lady trampers from Dunedin, managed to get our 'mountain radio' device up and running. The scene around the hut was awesome with the high snow clad ridges looming overhead.

We left next morning and under instruction of Joe Nav we all carried wood for a camp fire as it was the intention to camp up on the Saddle by the side of a tarn or cirque. It was windy and threatening, and fall back plans were made to go down next day into the Sabine Valley. However, to our great delight, it dawned next morning, fine, sunny and clear with a heavy frost. We went alpine climbing after some instruction from Vicky about three-point-holds and general mountaineering skills, we started to climb the nearest peak. Everyone was especially aware for falling rocks and Matt Richardson (it would be him) had a collision with one. Luckily no serious damage was done. It tested the nerves of some as they looked down on some steep drops. Ben Rammell that said he aged twenty years. But with care there was no real danger. The adventure was a tribute to strength of character. We clambered along the top of the high ridge treating frost, shattered rocks and splinters with special care. The view north and south in the brilliant sun was inspiring. Away to the north according to Joe Nav we could see 'Scots Knob' and Mt St Bernard. An unnamed peak was renamed 'Stream Peak' and a time capsule left under a cairn. The names of the party and some details were inserted into a film container and planted under a pile of rocks.

Looking to the south there were dark clouds so it was best that we retreated from the tops. We made our way down some scree slopes for lunch on top of a snow drift in a valley just above the camp site. There we met Mr Watson. The party then split into a group returning to the camp and one who climbed and went along the last high peak. Led by Joe Nav with Vicky, Mr Boyle, James Walford and Alastair Perkinson in train, some dicy ridges ('Paddy's Peak') were covered. Happily we made our way without incident through snow drifts, back to camp.

At camp the next adventure was swimming in the head cracking ice cold water of the cairn. The challenge was to swim to the island. Mr Boyle got half way and mysteriously couldn't find his tramping shorts when he returned. Ben Rammell was the final swimmer to accept the challenge. Joe Nav did his ablutions at the far end of the water. Darkness saw the fire lit and everyone stood round singing hymns, including a stirring rendition of Flossy's favourite 'Amazing Grace', under the stars.

Morning saw the expected weather change. We packed up the tents and gear. Mr Watson left early. We tracked down an endless shingle slide and we made friends with a cheeky Kea at the bottom. Some hours later we reached the Sabine Hut for lunch. From the bridge over the Sabine river trout were clearly visible. Here some of the party went swimming. Jumping off the bridge was vetoed by DB. At length, around 5pm, we reached the West Sabine Hut at the head of Lake Rotoiti. Quite a number of families were in the hut. The flies and mosies were a real problem. The boys tented outside on the muddy shore of the lake. Some Joe organised, arm wrestling sessions took place after tea with some of the family kids taking part.

Next morning a two to three hour climb took us out of the valley and over the ridge to where we knew the van was parked. It was a welcome sight. A message had been left by former trumper and old boy, Danny Rood.

A cleanup in the showers at St Arnaud and off to Blenheim. Kindly the boys put into a fund to buy the adult leaders a bottle of wine. A visit to a Vineyard by the adults while the boys amused themselves around the town.

To the ferry where we said goodbye to Joe and Vicky who went off on another adventure on the edge.

We reached Silverstream about 11pm and were met by our parents. That was the end of the great adventure.

The Silver Expeditions

Our practice expedition was to go up Mt Climie. Out of the van with our fully laden packs and up some steep road and onto 'Tane's Track' which goes through some fine forest and meets the main road a little way up the two hour climb. The leader group took off leaving the rear guard of Robert Whitefield, Mr Boyle, Mr Watson and me. The climb was a little monotonous but we were informed that we were being tested.

We had lunch at the telephone translator station and we could see all the way into Wellington and to the South Island. Later we followed the track along to the very end from where we could see the Wairarapa, Palliser Bay and Lake Ferry. We then started back and Casey Diver declaring he was first to arrive. We then had a tent setting up session. Everyone examined Nathan Muckley's new modern tent.

Friday September 11 saw us off on the main expedition. We assembled at College for a gear check and then onto the station for the unit to Upper Hutt. We waited for the Wairarapa Express and Mr Whitefield came to see us off. When the train arrived a moments rush and panic occurred to get the packs into the small luggage van in the face of a testy train guard and then to find a place on the heavily crowded train. We ended up dispersed throughout the train.

We disembarked at Woodside and as a group walked the few kilometres to the Waiohine Shelter where we stayed courtesy of St Pats Wellington. It turned out a really wet and stormy night and setting up tents was out of the question so we stayed in the shelter and slept on the floor. Meanwhile Joe Nav, Flossy and the dog Sushi together with a German student arrived. After a meal the adults played cards and the silvers had a group bonding session playing spin the bottle.

Next morning under a gray threatening sky, we left to tramp over Reeves. Joe Nav relocated his car to Walls Whare for an early escape over Cone Saddle on the return journey. He, in an amazing feat of tramping, managed to meet us at the top of Reeves. It is only fair to admit that Robert and I really struggled in the first few hours. But with some group coöperation and shared packs we finally made it. Heavy rain was falling when we reached Tutawai Hut and because it was occupied we decided to push on the Cone Hut. Some managed to get tents set up in the vicinity but most crowded into the small hut. It was a good social evening but some complaints were made about snoring. Des slept outside in his tent.

Next day was challenge day. Robert and I stayed as 'camp guards'. The rest of the party ventured off to risk life and limb bush bashing and negotiating water falls up the main river on the Joe Nav Special. We followed the river up to its very headwaters and then climbed the steep rise that emerged somewhere near the summit of Cone Mountain. We had lunch at the top but as conditions were claggy we decided to head down and arrived via some steep off track work in the middle of the Reeves Stream. Back at the hut Joe (now 'feeling a little off colour'), Flossy and the German student parted because of work commitments.

Next day we left early and tramped out, reaching Smith Creek about 12.30pm. We then made out way out to Kaitoke to meet Mr Watson in the college van. We were back at the College about 4pm, wet, exhausted but immensely satisfied that we had survived the Silver Expedition. Votes of thanks were made to the leadership.

On the trip were James Gilchrist, Jack Ahern, Alasdair Soja, Robert Whitefield, Casey Diver, Rhys Watkins, Michael McAdam, Richard Kibblewhite, Matthew Penman, Nathan Muckley and the adult shadow party.

The Bronze Expedition

On Tuesday 1st of December the Bronze Award group set off into the Tararua Mountains for a two night and three day tramping expedition. We were accompanied by a group of volunteer Silvers coming along for the ride. Most of the Bronze boys had little experience of tramping in native bush. The day began with a hurried repacking of packs and the reorganisation of the heavy loads. On the walk to the bus some realised that they had packed too much stuff but by then it was too late to unpack. Then it began to rain and it rained every day of the expedition.

We were dropped off at the 'cattle stop' entrance and it was still raining when we started up the steep incline leading to the 'puffer track'. It took nearly an hour for Next day, Chilton group took off determined to make it down the valley despite the rising rivers. We were divided into two groups, one for bush bashing with Joe Nav and Mr Boyle, the others who had struggled the previous day went with Mr Watson to explore the upper valley and Cone Hut. The off track adventure turned out to be a six hour ordeal up Reeves Stream which was steadily rising in flood. Many waterfalls blocked our way and they had to be taken straight on or sidled past with muddy and insecure weeds as handholds. Everyone had at least one near death experience. We also learned the super climbing qualities of Sushi the dog. Emerging on the top of the ridge we made our way down the track to the hut for a well earned break. After evening cooking we were again removed from the hut while the adults and teachers decided to celebrate. Below we made a bonfire and despite the rain, we sat around it until latish.

the slow group to reach the top. Arriving at the Dobson's junction we had a break and some lunch. The descent to Smith's Creek bordered on mountain climbing with heavy packs slamming onto shoulders with every step down. Eventually reaching the bottom we found the Silvers already there. The descent slowed the majority of the Bronze boys enabling some of the faster Bronzes and the Silvers to gain a rest and a muck around the river while they waited.

Eventually the stragglers caught up and the whole group set off for Tutawai through spectacular bush scenery. Here and there the track is badly damaged by slips. One boy, a silver was found hanging on for dear life on a cliff edge as he had slipped on the descent. He was rescued. Upon arriving at Tutawai in the constant rain the boys just collapsed not bothering to setup tents, eventually, however, tents were setup with the help of groups holding fly sheets to keep the inner part dry. Then it was up to the hut to cook dinner. It took sometime for the whole group to arrive. Joe Nav and Mr Boyle went back to assist, "This group has a very long and busy tail," said Joe Nav.

Much to everyone's surprise, staying at the hut was the Chilton Silver group who had come through from Totara flats. After cooking we were kicked out by an angry Chilton teacher for being too noisy and we went into the cold night and rain. Most repaired to their tents, though some silly idiots, who could not settle, were disruptive.

A few tents failed the test of the weather and flooded and the occupants had to go up the hut.

Next morning Mr Boyle had a slight accident with his knee and decided to leave early. The main party cleaned up the hut and the camp site and started on the six hour trip out to Kaitoke. The climb out of the basin at the end was anticipated with trepidation and it lived up to its reputation.

Finally we saw a tar sealed road when most ran for the bus awaiting below. The tramp was over and we had all survived.

Many thanks to Mr Nawaleneic, Mr Watson, Ms Pitman and Mr Boyle for their supervision and guidance. Also thanks to Sushi for showing us how to climb waterfalls.

A short story

by Simon Murrow

Back from the beach and my red arms sting. I'm pretty sure I have sand in my nose because it tickles each time I inhale. I take my shoes off, turn them up, and watch the tiny grains trickle to the concrete at my feet. A pile forms, and as if the hourglass is flipped, the sands of time fall skyward and I am back there again.

It is my favourite time of the day, sandpit time, just before lunch when Aaron and I go to the sandpit and play with the toys. As we walk out, the kauri dance to the tune of the whistling wind. Dad calls this a Wellington day, I don't know why, I'd just call it windy.

Sandpit time has different smells, feels and tastes from story time or nap time. That's why I love it. They cut the grass every week, on Wednesday morning before we get to Playcentre, and on this particular Wednesday the smell lingered. I sit down on the wooden log used to edge the sandpit, being careful not to slide. You get splinters if you slide.

The grass smells really good. It's always the same sweet smell, but always a different taste. Today is bitter, the grass is soft and chewy and soon my spit is thick and green. I spit on splinter log and Aaron comes to look. He says it looks like bogies, I disagree. Michelle, his mum, tells us to stop talking like that as she cleans up the spit, her eyes shooting me daggers. Sand is coarser than grass and gets stuck under my tongue. It has a very sharp taste, kind of like the burnt edge of the lasagne Mum made last night.

Aaron starts to dig, heaving big shovelfuls of sand over his shoulder. He does this every day, picks up his green spade and digs for treasure like Captain Feathersword. He'll hit gold some day. Everyone knows that the green spade with the wooden handle and chip out of the blade is Aaron's and they leave it alone during our sandpit time. Everyone except for new kid that is, he wants to come play in the sandpit. Not in our time.

The digger has some leaves in it's shovel, too tempting not to taste.

I like these leaves, they taste good, I'll have to find the tree they came from. New guy starts crying and I am splashed with something warm from behind. Aaron probably told him to wait his turn, this is our sandpit time. Ok, these are definitely my favourite leaves in the whole Playcentre. Michelle yells out one of those words Mum told me not to use, I look up and she is pointing at me, running over, shouting to Mum. As she draws closer, I see that it isn't me that she is pointing at, but something behind me.

I turn around and see it. Dad told me about Mars, he said it has red sand and that it is where the little Martian men live. He didn't say where it was, so I guess America. The sandpit is Mars' sand.

Red, lots of red.

Aaron's gone somewhere but new kid is lying down, his writhing body is coated in sticky red sand. Aaron's green spade lies in his hole, red smeared along one edge. New kid's hands are stuck to his face; sticky red jam holds them in place.

He moves them away and through the forest of stringy red sinews I see past those hands.

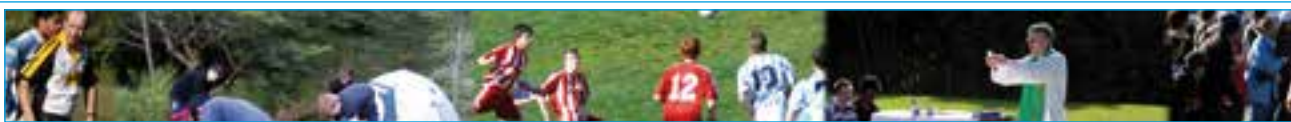

A jagged tear starts at the left corner of new kid's mouth, gaping wide, a grand canyon in new kid's face, exposing a tooth, the inside on his nose, bone behind the flapping flesh which clings desperately to his cheek by thin stretched skin. But the eye. The eye is no longer there, it is just a jammy red mush. Without meaning to, I have crept closer, I turn and run, away, away, anywhere but here.

I trip on splinter log and hit the ground hard, curl up and let the tears flow. When new kid came over he had two eyes, now he has one. Each time we went up to see him, Grandad would try to scare us with stories of terrible monsters, I thought they were all lies. But I was here, in Aaron's and my sandpit time, in Playcentre, eating leaves, smelling grass, spitting green, before lunchtime, after storey time, when a Cyclops was made. A normal boy loses an eye, and the fabled one eyed Cyclops of Grandad's stories is born.

I couldn't stop crying and neither could the Cyclops. When Nana died last year, they took her away in a truck with flashing lights and loud noises. Mum later told me that God had taken her. I had been there when God had put Nana in the back of his truck to drive her to heaven. I think God came for new kid as well. There were flashing blue and red lights, reflecting off the shiny grass around me, shiny because it was wet with my tears. The wailing howl of anguish the truck made, chilled me to the bone. After God went, Mum sat me up and held me. I don't know how long we stayed there, but I liked it.

The kauri had stopped their slow waltz and the leaves had soured in my mouth. I spat on the sand, and that was the last I saw of that sandpit ...

A spot of green spit on the face of Mars which is somewhere in America.

Rugby First XV

The 2009 First XV season can best be described as a roller-coaster ride, featuring some memorable highs, but also some disappointing performances. Whilst some unflattering results stick in the minds of many, the season really needs to be remembered for the efforts and achievements of this year's crop of Silverstream's finest Rugby talent.

The season started very early (October 2008) with preparations for a pre-season tour to Australia to get underway. The fundraising required for this, along with off-season training for an extended group of players, kept everyone very busy throughout the summer. Fundraising, the 'off-season' and three locally contested pre-season games behind us, 22 players and four management staff left for Sydney, Australia in the second week of the April holidays. Whilst the three matches played on this tour were not as competitive as we would have liked (the closest winning margin was 28 points), the team bonding and unity that was achieved served us well with later season disappointments.

These disappointments were not far away. On our return we faced the cold, hard reality that winning the premiere one competition was not going to be easy. Three losses to our main title rivals in the first three weeks were a real shock to the system. However, our place in the top flight was guaranteed for the season and there was no shortage of motivation to remedy the deficiencies in our game. Slowly and surely through the June-July period, where Saturday competition games and Wednesday traditionals made recovery and focus difficult, the team developed into a title contender. Losses in traditional against Wellington College, St Bede's and Palmerston North, who would all go on to make the top tier of sides nationally, were off set against victories against St Pats Town and an amazing come from behind victory against New Plymouth Boys' High School at the daunting 'Gully' ground in New Plymouth.

Through all this hectic rugby we were quietly clocking up the victories necessary to finish second on the competition table and earn a home semi-final to be played against what has become a bogey team for Silverstream in recent years, Mana College. A tightly contested first half led to more than a few nerves on the sideline at halftime, but in what is widely remembered to be the best half of rugby played all season, the Silverstream side ran away with the game in the second half, scoring 27 unanswered points in the final half hour. Grand final here we come!

The excitement around Silverstream leading into the Premiere 1 final was palpable. The players were able to put various disappointments from throughout the season behind them, and focus on the fact that they had achieved something that had not been done by the previous five First XVs, namely make the Premiere 1 final.

Ultimately the team was to be unsuccessful in that match, losing to an older, larger, more disciplined, Wellington College side. However, the night should be remembered fondly for the outstanding support given to the players by the hundreds of Silverstream supporters who made the effort to get to Porirua Park. This passionate support was of the kind that has been lacking around Silverstream for a number of years, and showed that 'Stream spirit' is still alive and well.

This 2009 crop of players had an exciting mix of youth and experience across the park. Whilst the front row was anchored by our College head boy, Attila Va'a (nobody will ever forget that try he scored in our semifinal victory), and also had the experienced and mobile Waylin Adams at hooker, Dion Lealofi (year 12), Larry Leaufagatele and Marcus Roil (both year 11) will all aid continuity moving into the 2010 season and ensure that this side will have no shortage of 'big men'. The locking positions proved, week in and week out, to be the hardest to select. Whilst year 13 students Christian Lloyd and Tom Aspin were playing very well, and getting recognised on a representative scale (Hurricanes' schools' camp, and Wellington U18 selection), they were pushed hard for starting berths by Ben Chan, a year 12 student, who brought a very physical presence to the field.

This tight five had the support of some talented loose forwards, with Mona Sio at number eight bringing some real size and aggression to the park, Aniseko Sio, at blindside, growing in confidence as the season progressed, and James Antipas and Anthony Ellis having a running battle for the coveted starting openside spot. These players all brought unique qualities to our team and, with the exception of Aniseko Sio who is returning, will be sorely missed in 2010.

With the responsibility for distributing the ball won by these forwards to our backline were Andre Malaulu and George Vance. Whilst Andre bought a real physicality to the halfbacks role, George's real strength came with the speed of his distribution. Throughout the season three different players wore the first five jersey, but when it came to the crunch games this responsibility was given to Jerome Betham. Jerome's footwork and distribution skills made him the ideal player to get the ball in the hands of his attacking backline as often as possible. His job was made easier through the support of the team's most successful player, Ope Peleseuma, playing outside him. Ope was clearly the most dangerous second five in the Wellington competition, his ability was recognised when he earned selection for the New Zealand Secondary Schools' team. His partner in crime in the midfield was also the sides eventual captain for the season, Parataiso Silafai-Leaana. Taiso's experience over recent seasons made him an excellent leader as he was able to show the young players in the team the depth of commitment required to be successful at this level. The experience and talent of these two meant that one of the sides most promising mid field talents, Aviata Silago, was often played out of position. However, his skill set is such that he took these disruptions in his stride and was able to add value from wherever he played.

The outside backs had pace in abundance with Rene Van Diggele, a recent football convert, making the most of the smallest of gaps, Phillip Salevao and Moses Fruean breaking tackles with ease, and Tomasi Alosio chiming into the backline with precision timing. As should be the case in Rugby, this is where the majority of our tries were scored.

The 2009 players and management team wish our successors all the best in the 2010 season and beyond. May rugby live on as the number one sport for our Silverstream talent.

Sectare Fidem.

Rugby – under 15

The season of 2009 for the under 15 rugby team was one of promise. Unfortunately, we lost momentum at the business end of the competition. The team topped the table after round-robin play showing a great level of consistency. In the final round three consecutive losses ended the season in disappointment, especially as the team had beaten every opposition earlier in the competition.

When the under 15 team was playing well, it was a very difficult opponent with some outstanding players. Solid set play and defence and the ability to score long range tries caused opposition teams difficulty.

The season ending injury to captain Saio Salevao, with his size and play around the field, was a huge loss to the team. The captaincy role was taken over by hooker, Andrew Knight, who put in a consistent, energetic effort each Saturday. Jack McGuinness and Gerard Faitatoa were the hard working props both of whom were good ball runners. They were ably backed up by Johannes Akapiti who is a promising year nine player.

Lock was an area which had a high injury toll with Alex Lewin missing the start of the season and Michael Press the end of season. When these boys played they were fully committed as was Aidan Woodward who was a very mobile lock. Bryce Futter, who also covered in at prop, added considerable bulk to the pack.

Vincent Sosefo was outstanding all season at number 8 and Junior Peleseuma tackled everything in sight from the blindside. Jack Coles played at openside and was a great ball winner at the front of the lineout. After Jack's injury Haize Alatipi was moved from second-five-eighth to this position with great success.

Caleb Ladbrook was strong at halfback with his passing and defence and Jo Perez also played well in this position as well as first-five-eighth. Regan MacDonald showed good skills as an inside back and used the dangerous mid-fielders Oliva Sialau and Edward Aiono to great success. Josh Kurton and Arana Morehu were superb finishers on the wing and Taylor Reedy developed into a very good fullback over the season.

Liam Forbes, Zac Kalavati and Durran Misa also came up from the under 14's to cover.

The team scored 349 points over the season. The top try scorers were Morehu with eight, Aiono 15, and Kurton with an impressive 18 tries!

The boys have certainly developed their skills and game-play over the season. They worked hard at training, played hard on Saturdays and enjoyed the great game of Rugby. All team members have much promise and I will enjoy watching them play for Silverstream over the next few years. I thank them for their efforts.

I would also like to thank Phil Bennett who added his expertise with the forwards, Mr. Tinney for his managerial skills, Mr. Packer for organising Rugby within the College, and the parents for their sideline support throughout the season.

Football First XI

The start of the season bought new life into the Silverstream grounds that had lain free from football for several long hot months. The wondrous sight of the football posts being raised on (for the first time in Silverstream history) three fields was awe inspiring.

Unfortunately the season started so slowly that it may have appeared that the boys were still in summer holiday mode instead of preparing for the highly anticipated season.

As you read on there will be sad moments followed by amazing highs and some miraculous history making events from the Antony Meiklejohn captained 2009 team.

To earn a cap for the first eleven football team, a player must play for the College in a full length game with a qualified referee, and a member of the coaching or management team must witness his play. Every player that starts a game for the 1st XI is given a player number to represent their position in the history of all the players to represent the College's first XI.

Once a player has reached fifty games for the College he is eligible for a sports pocket indicating this achievement. The players who reached this milestone of 50 games for the College this year are:
Andrew Coad; Antony Meiklejohn; Brandon Tai

Final of Youth Boys Division One; v Scots College at Silverstream

After dominating the first fifteen minutes and being 2 goals up. We slipped into a lazy and dull style of play for the next hour and looked the second best team on the field for most of this time. Some intensity and enthusiasm over the last fifteen minutes saw another goal gained.

Silverstream were rightful winners 3 – 1 but were only kept in the game by our outstanding young goalkeeper Scott Basalaj.

Season Summary

Even though we won the division one title it will still be classed as a disappointing Wellington season. There is a lot to prove in 2010 with 12 of the squad returning to the College and pushing for places in the team.

Next year we will hope for:

- fewer injuries
- a consistent team to select from with competition for places
- a hard disciplined approach to from the start of the season
- a renewed desire to win every game
- senior players to take control of every game

Traditional Games 2009

The six traditional college matches hold a special place in the hearts of the 1st XI.

The following are the match reports from our finest season of traditional results.

v. Wellington College (Away) 3rd June 2009 ~ Loss 0 – 6

After conceding goals early and never got on top of the Coll team. Three goals scored in each half so a very disappointing start to the traditional season.

MVP – James Vernon

v. St Bede's College (Away) 10th June 2009 ~ Win 4 – 0

After losing the trophy last year in a very poor display had many points to prove by playing a well structured style against the Larry long ball of St Bede's. Some well set up goals attacking from deep saw the trophy secured in the first half.

Goals from Andrew Coad 2; Hamish Watson and St Bede's own goal; MVP – James Vernon

v. Rongotai College (Away) 17th June 2009 ~ Win 3 – 2

The final score looks like it was a close game but the Rongotai team scored in the first ten minutes of the game (from a dodgy penalty) and in the last 3 minutes of the match. We controlled the game and played the better football by moving the point of attack and pressurising the Rongotai team into kicking long at every option. A highlight was the impact of Mitchell BLAIR from the bench scoring his first goal for the College in only his third match.

Goals from Hamish Watson, Andrew Coad and Mitchell Blair; MVP – Hamish Watson

v. New Plymouth Boys High School (Away) 1st July 2009 ~ Win 2 – 0

The New Plymouth traditional is always eagerly anticipated trip for the 1st team. New Plymouth has consistently been ranked in the top 16 teams at a national level for the last decade. Silverstream played a modified formation to control the match and with outstanding leadership from the back four defenders and another well organised game from Scott Basalaj in goal the match was well under control.

Hamish Watson once again put in a massive amount of work in the second half as we defended to hold onto our lead gained just before the break. Watson scored in the last ten minutes to cap off another good performance.

Goals from Hamish Watson 2; MVP – Brandon Tai.

v. Saint Patrick's College, Wellington (home) 22nd July 2009 ~ Win 4 – 0

Playing our brother College at home always motivates us to raise our game to another level. The game was won in the first 25 minutes from two well taken goals. We had a much higher intensity and energy than Town had been used and kept them out of the entire match. Steven YEATES capped off the game with two controlled goals in the second half.

Goals from Andrew Coad, Hamish Watson, Steven Yeates 2; MVP – James Vernon.

v. Palmerston North Boys High School (Home) 29th July 2009 ~ Win 2 – 1

Having never defeated PNBHS in this traditional there was a lot to prove in the last major game of the year. Excellent preparation and some inspiring speeches from senior players had the boys in a great frame of mind to knock off a top five, nationally ranked team. An early goal from Hamish Watson followed up with another as the first half drew to a close gave a 2 - 1 lead at half time. The team defended solidly for the second half and the back five players kept us in the game.

Several Old Boys were dismayed that there was no trophy for this game and they have donated one for this fixture.

Goals from Hamish Watson 2; MVP – Brandon Tai

| TAI Brandon       | 1             |

There were only 22 games played in 2009 indicating what a fantastic achievement Hamish Watson's goal tally is. This also included two hat-tricks. A final quote to revitalise for 2010 by Nikole Flannery. Wanting something bad enough is not about waiting for it to come around to you. You have to take that chance and get it yourself. Let us see what the 2010 team takes chances on and what they end up getting. Sectare Fidem.

Football – 1st XI Captain's Report

Silverstream Football for 2009 started off very slow and lethargic. With a lot of the boys still playing Cricket and two of the boys coming back from major injury the majority of the boys were ill prepared and unfit the 1st XI were placed in a difficult pool with Hutt International Boys, Wellington College, Scotts College, Rongotai College and Upper Hutt College.

Division One - final win.

Poor first up results and bad mistakes lead to a:

- 2-2 draw with Rongotai
- 1-1 draw with Scotts
- 3-2 loss to Hutt International Boys
- 4-0 loss to Wellington College
- 3-2 win over Upper Hutt College
- This lead to Silverstream being relegated into Premier One for 2009. The 3-2 loss to Hibbs was the final blow to the Silverstream boys.

The first game for Silverstream was against Rongotai at home. The boys took an early lead through a goal mouth scramble with Antony Meiklejohn slamming the ball home. This was shortly lived as Rongotai quickly hit back to 1-1 with quick a Rongotai attack with 20 minutes to go in the half. The small but powerful Ben Rammel soon put Stream back in front just before half time with a curled in shot from out wide. Stream went into the half time brake with a 2-1 lead. The second half was a usual toughly contested battle between the two all boys colleges. With time all most up Stream let a soft goal past them to end the game as a 2-2 draw.

The next game against Scotts was somewhat of a similar performance with the boys throwing away a 1-0 lead to only let Scotts back into the game and end up in a 1-1 draw.

Because of the first two games disappointingly drawn this put a lot of pressure on the team to a must win game against Hibbs. Playing some early attractive football Stream took an early 2-0 lead with two experienced 1st XI players in Andrew Coad and Ethan Morta scoring early. Going up 2-0 the boys relaxed and took the foot off the pedal to unfortunately letting Hibbs back into the game with five minutes to go in the half. The boys came out fired up at the half time break proving they can work hard as a team. Stream battled and battled to the end but didn't play to the conditions. Hibbs scored two lucky goals in the second half as Stream boys failed to take their opportunities and went down 3-2.

The game against Wellington College started off promisingly holding off Wellington till half time. The fitter Wellington college outfit soon ran out to a 4-0 lead in the second half through their dangerous midfield and strikers showed their class and dominance to run out with the result late in the second half. Although of the heavy second half loss the Stream boys showed huge signs of improvement.

The final game of pool play against Upper Hutt College was played out under horrific conditions with torrential rain and gale force winds. The passionate battle between the two Colleges playing for local supremacy ended up in some ruthless play with Ethan, Luke, and Sam all being taken off to hospital with head and neck injuries. All three players were out for over three weeks with serious concussion and black eyes.

Wellington College Vs St Pat's Silverstream

The Silverstream Traditional fixtures were soon under way with the first of the games against Wellington College at Coll. The team went down being heavily defeated in a game which they would rather forget in front of a large crowd of both schools and supporters. This was the big shock and wake up call for boys as the season turned around from there.

St Bede's Vs St Pat's Silverstream

The next of the fixtures was against St Bede's College in Christchurch. The trip to Bede's looked a hard one as they lost to Bede's 2-0 last year. The boys hit back hard after their huge loss against Wellington College with a very convincing 4-0 thumping of St Bede's. For the first time this season the boys came together and showed their pure talent and ability with everyone playing well. The team took home the first of the six trophies they would go on to win during the season.

Rongotai Vs St Pat's Silverstream

The next traditional fixture on the agenda was Rongotai. Rongotai over the years had proven to be tough competition throughout the years with most of the games ending up in a draw or a loss. Full of confidence the boys overcame a ramped Rongotai outfit to win 3-2. The second trophy of the year was taken back to stream in an exciting cliff-hanging game. The highlight of the game was the young year 10 player Mitchell Blair who scored his first XI goal to win the game 3-2.

New Plymouth Boys' High School Vs St Pat's Silverstream

The trip to New Plymouth seemed a daunting one with NBHS being a top eight team in New Zealand. Coming up against some of the finest footballers in New Zealand the Stream boys rose to the challenge with a fine display of magnificent football gelling together to run out with a 2-0 win.

The boys attacked as a team, defended as a team and all round worked as a team. The hard work of the boys was illustrated through the sheer hard work, passion, desire, pride and the ruthlessness which they took to the field with. The team's desire to keep their hopes of a record five out of six traditional wins pulled them through the game to hold the win out. The boys had taken their third trophy home this season and were greeted at ranks the following day to a round of applause and a standing ovation.

St Pats' Silverstream Vs St Pat's Town

The second to last traditional fixture of the year was once again a sparking display of a now well oiled Silverstream machine. The Stream boys for the second time this year picked apart their town counterparts with a 4-0 win in front of a pleasing Stream support showing their dominance and class in front of goal and their all round playing abilities. The game was extremely exciting with Town having a good handful of chances and opportunities. The love was not lost between the two schools with some good fair play and the utmost respect for each other throughout the game. This was now the fourth win out of five in traditional fixtures for the boys and the fourth cup the boys were to take home and the dream of a record five out of six traditional wins was now more alive than ever.

St Pat's Vs Palmerston North Boys' High School

The last and final traditional fixture of the year was set to be one of the most exciting matches Silverstream would ever witness. The week of build up was intense as the boys were in for the biggest challenge they have had all year. During the build up that week New Zealand third ranked team Palmerston North Boys' High School took apart Wellington College 2-1. The challenge that lay ahead for the boys was a mountainous task. A week of motivational build up by the boys promoting the game throughout the school and an inspirational, motivational speech by Antony Meiklejohn in the school assembly outlined the importance of the game. The game started off with a bang with Hamish Watson scoring a beautiful goal within the five minutes.

The talented team of Palmerston North soon hit back with speculation of offside but the goal was given anyway. But once again the ever reliable Hamish Watson popped up to score what would turn out to be the winner. Up until half time the game was still exciting with Silverstream playing the best football seen all year. Both teams went into the half time break with the score being in Silverstream's favour at 2-1. The Silverstream machine rolled out into the second half full of confidence. The boys held out till the end to win the game 2-1 – an amazing win. This is a first for the Silverstream 1st XI to win against Palmerston North Boys' High School. This win demonstrated what the boys can really do when the attitude and focus all comes together.

The second half of the season was a complete walkover in Premier B with convincing wins every week. The team average 4-5 goals a game and rarely conceded goals. The second half of the season and the traditional wins with the record five out of six wins was a complete success. Hamish Watson took out the Golden boot with 24 goals in 24 games.

The season could best be summed as a success with winning a record five out of six traditional fixtures and winning the premier B trophy. The team went 16 games unbeaten through the rest of their season. The highlight of the season were the wins over New Plymouth Boys' High School and Palmerston Boys' High School in two of the traditional fixtures.

Athletics

The athletics season for 2009 was a new beginning. The stars of the last 5 years had left and we were left to contemplate the effect that would have. It was obvious the seniors would not have the same impact – would this filter down to lower levels and would the 48 point drubbing we received from Town at the Neville Shield even further damage our prospects. As it was, we were actually in reasonable shape all things considered. Our U15 athletes were a talented group and we had a sprinkling of seniors who could take on the best other schools had to offer. The weakness we did have in general though related to sprints – the speed merchants just weren't around apart from the U15 boys. When speed is lacking it tends to have a roll on effect in speed related events such as long and triple jump.

The Old Boys' Cup

This was always going to be a big day – Town had the McEvedy Shield and the Old Boys' Cup – plus the Neville Shield! They were obviously out to destroy us in preparation for their McEvedy defence. They had also acquired over the summer break an U16 sprinter who had taken sprint medals at the NZ Secondary School Championships two months previously – when you are on a roll this tends to happen. Dubbed “the fastest Indian” Rosario certainly was a great addition to their team.

The 200's kicked off the day for the sprinters and it wasn't a great look for us. Town won every race and had three placings in three of the races with two placings in the other two – talent and depth. We found out they had also acquired an U14 sprint star as well! Keeping us in some points here were Zac Kalivati in the U14's who ran 26.3 for fourth, Josh Kurton U15 second in 24.1, Declan O'Connor fourth in the U15 race in 24.4, Sam

Dean third in U16 with 24.1 and Daniel Ellison fourth in U16 with 24.2. In the senior grades Rene van Diggele took second in U17 with 23.6 while Jerome Betham took fourth in O17 with 25.2.

No disrespect to Jerome but it was an ominous sign – our top age group sprinter had not broken 24. The seniors had not shown the necessary passion leading up to this event and it was to Jerome's credit that he actually stood up and gave it his best shot – too many of his mates cried off. Town took 31 points in the 200's in 2008 – this year they took 38.

The 100's later in the day saw the exact same points thrashing – with pretty much the same athletes featuring. In the middle distance the game was more even.

The 3000m was shared with Matt Pavitt, our team captain, delivering in style with a comfortable 9min 22 sec win in the seniors. He was backed up by Talor Gilmer who took third with a gutsy 9min 47 sec run – his first major race after a long injury break. In the junior grade Shaun Smith showed his improved form with a commanding win in 9min 36sec over his Town rival of the past two years. Town took the next three places which wasn't a good sign for other middle distance races ahead.

The 800m event followed shortly after the 3000m. Jeremy Clegg took out the U14 race with 2min 24 sec and Steven Boyle took fourth in 2min 29sec – Steven's first points for Stream with many more to come judging by his effort and attitude in training. Jack Coles took second in the U15 race with 2min 14sec but he was on his own for Stream.

Town's depth started to have an impact and the U16 race saw Pat Carson take our one point with his fourth placing in a respectable 2min 14sec. Alister perkinson with 2min 4sec took out the U17 race and Pavitt showed his strength with a fourth in 2min 9sec. Lachie Donnelly battled to adge the Townie in the O17 race for first in 2min 12sec, Jarrod Wilson taking third in 2min 17sec. We had won the 800s by 26 to 24 in 2008, this year we lost them by 10 points. Town was looking very good!

In the field, the events were not as predictable. From no where, we won the triple jump by 27 to 23, taking three titles. Henry Walsh, 12.02m in the U15s, Liam Higgins 11.45m in the U16s and Matt Richardson 12.04m in the U17s. Good back up was provided by Daniel Jordan in the U14 with second in 10.61m, Josh Kurton U15s second with 11.60m and Jerome Betham second in O17 with 11.95m We had actually done this the previous year as well, winning in 2008 by two points.

The long jump saw us reverse the triple jump points though, with Kurton 5.23m, Van Diggele 5.83m, taking titles. The long jump is generally taken out by sprinters and this proved to be the case – each grade being won by the best sprinter. We also took the discus by 28 to 22 points, with Mona Sio O17 – 33.89m, Ben Chan U16 – 41.84, Saio Salevao U15 – 40.14m and Johannes Akapita U14 – 39.26m taking titles. This was the same winning margin as in 2008.

After lunch came the hurdles and a 35 to 15 point win for Town – the same as last year again! Kurton and Ellison showed good form but the Town depth was too much. By now we were in trouble. The 400s were lost by 20 points as their short sprint athletes put their bodies on the line and swept us away – our sprinters not so strong in mind and body didn't do the same. Declan O'Connor showed his ability with a great 55.9 sec 400m in the U15 race but celebrated before the line and lost first place while doing it. Alister Perkinson showed his determination with a great 53.9 sec win in the U17 race. Ethan Morta and Lane Davis-Pedersen took third in the O17 and U17 races , both getting good times of 54.3 and 54.6 secs.

The 1500's saw Smith and Pavitt win well with 4min 34sec and 4min 22secs. Gilmer ran 4min 25 for his second and Clegg and Boyle took points with 5min 7sec and 5min 16sec for second and fourth. Zac Press, on limited training, ran a gutsy 4min 34sec for second in the U17 race.

Back in the field we won the shot with Akapita 12.50m, Chan, 12.80m and Waylin Adams 13.04m taking titles. Good backup was again, the key here and Elekana Laupola, Attila Va'a and Jarrod Wilson taking seconds did this for us. In the Javelin – our premier event – we came out losing by 4 points. Avi Silago showed his improving consistency with first in U16 with 51.98m, supported by Liam Higgins in second with 44.98m. Andrew Knight – 42.01m, Glenn Scotney – 40.47m and Iriapa Moeau – 38.94m took second to fourth in U15.

The day ended with a drubbing in the relays! It had been a great win for Town.

The points were bad for us, great for Town. This is the lowest score we have had since the bad old days of the 1990's. It was a demolition job of our track team, with the field team only losing by five points. Depth and talent in sprints across the grades – they had them and we didn't. Seniors with "ticker" – we struggled to find them.

McEvedy Shield "What Now?"

We had been badly beaten by Town – now we had to face up to the efforts of Wellington College (Coll) and Rongotai as well. It was a big challenge and we all knew it. While we were always going to compete to or best our hope was to keep Rongotai at bay and hold on to our third ranking. It was going to take all our effort to do just that!

The 3000m kicked off the day. Shaun Smith again showed his increasing confidence with a well won race in 9min 44sec – a great tactical battle seeing Shaun win very well with a dominant last lap. In the senior race Matt Pavitt had his worst fears confirmed when a recently caught heavy cold left him with no reserves too run at his normal level. His third place, with Talor Gilmer in fourth in 9min 41sec did earn us points however, and we finished the 3000s in first place.

The 200s then took the spotlight – and Town hit top gear. Unfortunately, our weakness showed through – only 2 athletes gaining places in the 4 grades. Josh Kurton second in 24.1 sec and Declan O'Connor 3rd in 24.3sec. Town took 20 points in all, with Coll 10 and Rongotai 5. The proverbial had hit the fan and we were in a battle with Rongotai. In the 800m Alister Perkinson ran an awesome senior race to win with 2min – his best time. Jack Coles took second in 2min 14sec in the U15 race and Jeremy Clegg took fourth in the U14 race. This was our lot. Town took 17 points, Rongotai had five.

In the discus we turned the meet on its head, taking 17 points here compared to Coll on 16, Town on four and Rongotai on three. We had two titles here with Akapita in the U14s throwing 40.13m, Ben Chan the U16 in 44.34m with Avi Silago second in 40.07m. Durran Meichtry-Misa took third in the U14 with 36.66m and Saio Salevao took fourth in U15 with 38.02m. Attila Va'a finished his impressive discus career for Stream with a great second behind his foe – Tinkle – with 42.04m. This gave us much needed points and also saw Coll back on the scoreboard.

As the day progressed it became evident that the field events were fairly even amongst the 4 schools, with Coll making ground in general in each event. The sprints were going Towns way and we were hanging in there due to the middle distance boys efforts. In the 100m only Josh Kurton and Arana Morehu gained points with s<sup>second</sup> and 4th places in 12.00sec and 12.2 sec. Coll were fighting back as well, but Town took three titles in the 100's. After lunch the hurdles arrived and Kalivati took third with 12.8 secs, Ellison also taking third with 15.1secs. Again, these were our only placings. The javelin boys had a tough day with Avi failing to get a good throw in. Liam Higgins came through though and won the U16 with 47.59m. Andrew Knight showed his big-match temperament with 41.37m for fourth in the U15 event. The big movers here were Coll who took 20 points. The shot saw us back in the game with Chan, 13.69m, and Akapita, 2.27m, taking titles. Laupola took second with 12.77m and Salevao took third with 11.67m.

In the 400's Declan O'Connor made sure of the the win this time, recording 55.3sec – a talented athlete who did well. Jack Coles showed up again with 57.1sec taking third place. Perkinson and Pedersen took third and fourth in the O17 race in 53.4 and 53.8 secs. The 1500m races were similar to the 800s – this time though Smith turned up and ran 4min 36secs to take the U15 title. Gilmer ran 4min 25secs for second and Pavitt finished a hard day with third in 4min 21secs. The challenge from Rongotai had been dealt with but the attention as the day ended was on Town and Coll as they battled it out. The relays saw Coll take a lead and they finished the day with a surprising victory over Town and the shield back on Black dirt. Amazing!

McEvedy Total Points

|        | 2009       | 2008  | 2007 | 2006 | 2005  | 2004 | Placing         |
|--------|------------|-------|------|------|-------|------|-----------------|
| Stream | 100 | 127   | 97   | 153  | 135.5 | 130  | 3 rd |
| Coll   | 180 | 160.5 | 176  | 175  | 175.5 | 210  | 1 st |
| Town   | 173 | 174   | 137  | 117  | 129.5 | 102  | 2 nd |
| Rong   | 81  | 75.5  | 125  | 94   | 95    | 97   | 4 th |

Town had lost – it was amazing. In many respects that was down to us – our lack of impact in the sprints meant Coll made inroads that Town couldn't deal with. Town had the same points as last year – we had dropped by 27 points – Coll took most of those. In the jumps we performed very poorly – going from competitive at Old Boys' too getting 7.5 points in total over high, long and triple jumps. We do not have access to adequate jump pits and it shows at this event. Our jumps are simply not big enough. On the other hand McEvedy is never predictable – not in the 2000's anyway. It is incredibly hard to win and the school that does so has every reason to be proud – that's the status of McEvedy. It is a premier competition and schools that take part know that it can be brutal. I suspect the current noise from a school wanting to take part in McEvedy would rapidly disappear if they knew just how tough it is.

North Island Champs.

This event was held in Wellington. Our athletes competed well, with three taking medals. Zac Kalivati third, 80m hurdles in 12.55secs, Daniel Ellison second, in 100m hurdles in 14.63secs and Avi Silago second in the intermediate javelin with 51.93m.

Neville Shield 2009

Preparation for the Neville Shield began early in term four with the houses selecting teams to compete for a house championship. Most trainings were set for lunchtimes and this seemed to work well. The only problem was the weather – it rained nearly all of October and November! This meant the track was marked out only in the last few weeks of the term giving us little time to do any event based training. The boys, however, got stuck in on the house competition day and we were pleased with the results and the emergence of a number of new athletes. Patrick won the competition, dethroning Chanel for the first time ever in a sports event. The Neville Shield team was absolutely awesome on the day. We had 100% commitment – no lame excuses, no whinging – just total effort. The boys came within one point of taking the shield back – they won, however, respect! Scott Basalaj set the tone for the meet when he took on the McEvedy 400m titleholder and medallist in the North Island Champs over 200m and had him beat until the final few strides. He repeated this effort in the 100m and then finally got his win in the 4x100 relay. This effort from Scott, a novice racer who has speed to burn, lifted the whole team and the spectators. The year 9 sprinters demolished the Townies with Kalivati, Jack Shipp and Liam Forbes dominating. In the field we had similar success in the year 9 high jump with Henrico Bell, Conrad Kovalski and Kalivati all taking points. Bell went on to win the triple jump as well. In the javelin Rhys Moen took the title with a 38m throw. On the track in the middle distance Steven Boyle won the 3k and took second in the 1500m. Steven Mitchell took third in the 3k and Kovalski won the Year 9 800m as did James Sheppard in the Y10 800m. Saio Salevao won the Year 10 Discus with a 48m throw. It fell apart a little in the Year 10 Shot and Javelin, then the Year 10 1500m. We ended the day 1 point behind but we felt good!

Final points (2008 to 2004 points in brackets)

Silverstream 123 (103, 117, 108, 148, 123.5)

Town 124 (151, 134, 140, 104, 124.5)

NZ Secondary School Athletics Champs

This year the champs were in Timaru. The team of 20 boys plus 6 staff stayed at Timaru Boys in their dorms. This was ideal as we had all our meals laid on plus were only a 5 min drive from the stadium. The weather was hot and muggy, turning to hot, muggy and windy. It meant having to cope with head winds in the back straight and oppressive heat from all directions. The boys were superb in every respect. The trip was probably the best in my 28 years of these events, made so by the results for nearly all the boys being at their best if not better. This only happens when the team works together and these guys did that. It capped off a great week of athletics after the efforts shown by the juniors in the Neville Shield. Standout performances are as follows:

Junior 4x100m team This team of Arana Morehu, Josh Kurton, Talor Reedy and Declan O'Connor took the Bronze medal out. They are a talented group of boys who had the ability to combine efficiently to get this result. Without being too flashy, they did the basics well. With two of them in finals plus one other getting to the semi's they had a busy weekend. The time was very close to our school record.

Third in the Junior 4 x 100m with 45.81 secs

Declan O'Connor Declan had started the year with little idea how well he might go. He settled on the 400m and managed to take the McEvedy title. Before these champs he still had little idea but elected to have a go. From the first round it was apparent he was going to do more than just having a go. His win in the first round was followed by a comfortable 3rd in the semis. In the final his 5th placing was a huge result and extremely promising. He only lost placings with his lack of experience in dealing with a strong wind in the back straight.

Fifth in the Junior 400m final with a best time of 53.62secs

Saio Salevao Saio went into the Discus event with not much experience with the 1.25 weight. He struggled with the lack of experience and only managed one good throw in the first round. This one throw got him into the top 8. He then proceeded to throw with a little more fluency – probably getting used to the weight! His final placing was well deserved and shows the determination and focus this young man has when the pressure is on.

fifth in the Junior Discus with 40.98m

Shaun Smith Shaun focussed on his event, the Junior 1500m from the moment he arrived to when his event finished on Sunday at 4.18pm. He got through to the final by taking a comfortable 6th. In the final he laid down a challenge to himself and the other boys, taking the lead after 200m and setting a strong pace for the next 2 laps. On the final lap the speedsters edged past him but Shaun showed the strength of a good winter of regular miles by maintaining his rhythm and stride, finishing in style with a best ever time.

Sixth in the Junior 1500m with 4min 18.53 secs

Josh Kurton. Josh had 2 events on the go – the 100m and the 200m. He progressed through the rounds in both events and made the decision to drop the 100m in the semifinal. This allowed him to focus on the 200m. By the time of the final Josh had raced 6 times and this probably cost him a fraction of time in that last 20 metres. A great performance though, with a few notable scalps taken on the way.

Sixth in the Junior 200m with a best time of 23.79 into a 1.4 headwind.

Aviata Silago Avi stepped up to senior ranks aiming to show he was a medal contender. He had been regularly hitting 50m in training and appeared to be in control of the javelin thus avoiding the arm problems of last year. His throws were all in the 50m range and his placing was superb. Two throws both recorded the same distance showing his consistency.

Seventh in the Senior Javelin with a best of 53.50m

Other Performances

Liam Higgins in his first major competition took 9th in the Senior Javelin with a best of 48.26m. This would usually have seen him in the top 8 and 3 more throws. A great result all the same for a talented athlete. Alister Perkinson and Talor Gilmer both made the 800m Senior semi's. They were in "the event of death" with the pace so hot it caused the demise of a number of top athletes – including them. Alister had a great run to make the semis with a 2.min 2.50sec 3rd place. Talor had made it with a comfortable 2min 9.02 sec. Talor's unfortunate 400m race in 60 secs didn't help him either when the first lap of their semi that they were both in was run in 57 secs into a headwind. Talor Reedy ran well to make the 200m semi's and looked even better in the relay. The Year 9 Road Racers of Steven Boyle and Steven Mitchell took 22nd and 28th placings with times of 10min 28 and 10min 37 ran superbly in the field of 89. Ants McKee finished his career at Stream with a superb 1.53 time for the 100m, making the quarter-finals. Jack Talapa in his first year as a senior took some notable scalps with his best time of 11.73secs in the 100m. Zac, Johannes, Durran and Julian would have learned from their experiences – they still were up to their best performances. Matt Paviit found the experience of being "flat" frustrating in his senior 3k. There is nowhere to hide in the senior grade as a few boys found out in the weekend. It is a an experience everyone has.

And that was athletics for 2009. We have hope. It is not all roses and the depth of athletes at Coll is always going to cause problems but we do have talent and we do have "heart" returning. The coaching ranks are swelling and the competitions we have are improving.

The over-riding need, though, is without a doubt the facilities at stream. We have grass in abundance but grass doesn't prepare athletes for top competition. It allows top athletes to train on a soft surface in the hotter months – that is all. Plans are under way for a track and by the time this comes out in the Blue and White I would hope to have some significant progress on this issue. It is time.

Badminton

The 2009 Badminton Season has been a very successful season for the Silverstream 1 senior team, finishing second in the Hutt Valley Senior B competitive division in a fight that went right down to the final game.

We had lost two very valuable players from the 2008 season – Jimmy Van Dissen and long standing player Daniel Hicks. However, the team welcomed two new players – Tane Matangi, a new Year 13 student from Ruapehu College, and Brandon Pope, who was a substitute for the team in 2008, but became a regular player in 2009. These people together with Matthew Richardson, Thomas McCoy and Nethran Pathmanathan became a force to be reckoned with in the league.

The team started the season unbeaten and this winning streak continued right throughout the season. However, in the final game, second placed Saint Bernard's got lucky, catching the Stream team on a bad day, coming off as victors. This loss along with a few points glitches with College Sport knocked Silverstream into second place, and gave Saint Bernard's the champion title.

Despite the disappointing loss, the season was still a very enjoyable and beneficial one. After all – every win and every loss is a learning curve.

Cross Country

Two thousand and nine was our chance to get some top individual results, with Matt Pavitt and Shaun Smith our main contenders. We had a lack of interest at the under 16 level which was causing concern. In the senior ranks we did have support for Pavitt but mostly that was made up of part-time runners. We needed some talent at year 9 to balance the books!

The school champs were run as a house competition across all year levels, which gave us much better senior results and more competitive racing based on the houses. The results were promising, with two record set and Shaun Smith also breaking a previous record. In year 9 we had enough talent to be able to look forward to a good year. In the seniors it was apparent that our ability lay mostly with the year 11 boys.

Wellington Relays at "Karori"

The course with its huge hill climb and new loop around the redeveloped playing fields is a real challenge. This year we thought we had a good chance at year 9 and a possible good show at the Senior level although Talor Gilmer had gone down with a long-term Achilles based injury. This was a blow to him and the Senior team. In the U16 grade we were making an appearance but did not have much hope! The A team results are as follows.

Senior A Team seventh place

|-------------|-----------------|
| M Pavitt    | 6 mins 35 secs  |
| S Smith     | 7 mins 05 secs  |
| B Gosse     | 7 mins 53 secs  |
| Z Press     | 7 mins 23 secs  |
| P Crombie   | 7 mins 41 secs  |
| A Perkinson | 7 mins 05 secs  |
| Total       | 43 mins 43 secs |

This result was an indicator of the problems the senior team had – talented runners combined with older boys who didn't have the commitment required at this level – keen boys but not keen athletes.

Under 16 A Team 9th place

|-------------|-----------------|
| J Kurton    | 8 mins 09 secs  |
| J Coles     | 7 mins 57 secs  |
| J Clegg     | 8 mins 00 secs  |
| K Allardyce | 8 mins 21 secs  |
| T Foster    | 8 mins 58 secs  |
| M Wood      | 9 mins 02 secs  |
| Total       | 50 mins 27 secs |

This team was put together to give some of the better runners at this grade a chance. They didn't take it and the team performed extremely poorly. Opportunities come once for some – this was the last appearance for a number of these boys.

Year 9 A Team third place.

|-------------------|------------------------|
| S Boyle           | 7 mins 43 secs         |
| S Mitchell        | 8 mins 05 secs         |
| C Kovaleski       | 8 mins 35 secs         |
| R Misseldine      | 8 mins 53 secs         |
| J Shipp           | 8 mins 15 secs         |
| C vander Coolwijk | 7 mins 58 secs         |
| Total      | 49 mins 29 secs |

The year 9 team had a great start and kept it strong with a good finish. Their third placing was well deserved, with the boys keen trainers. We had expected a better result but losing to HIBS and Coll proved to be anything but embarrassing as these two teams both ended the year with national team titles.

The Senior team had not achieved as well as expected even with Talor missing. In the meantime, the depth of talent around Wellington was impressive, with Town making an appearance for once in the senior grades.

The Wellington Champs

Held at Trentham park once again, this event was a chance to gain some credibility after Karori for the seniors. It also gave the year 9 team another chance.

This was the improvement we were looking for, with the seniors, fourth in the three man and in the six man events and the year 9's consolidating their performance taking fourth place in the three man event and third in the six man. The under 16's were third in the three man and second in the six man events. Standout performances by Shaun Smith and Matt Pavitt, both taking the pace and challenging for the lead in their respective races. The Wellington champs are run over a flat but slow course and the times achieved by the boys were good. In the senior grade three of these boys were year 11 and having their first run over six km. After this event training stepped up another notch as the Nationals drew close. The discovery by Shaun and Matt of a new training spot at Harcourt Park proved to be very useful for long reps and I am sure that helped the development of the boys. We will use that venue again!

National Champs, Nelson

A team of 20 took part in the Secondary Schools' Cross Country Champs in Nelson. The course was dry and predominantly flat, with weather crisp and sky blue, ensuring fast racing with only the brave heading out at breakneck speed. The first to compete were the year 9s – a team of talented boys who have little experience but big hearts. These boys, well lead by Steven Boyle, took eighth place in the team event and more significantly did this with strong team running. Steven in 41st was followed quickly by Steven Mitchell, Cory vander Coolwijk, Jack Shipp, Dominic Scahill, Royden Misseldine and Conrad Kovaleski – all of these boys getting in the top 100. Lachie Watson took 106th after a very fast start. The attitude and desire of these boys in training and the race is very positive.

In the Under 16 grade we had only three competitors but they were quality athletes. Josh Kurton took time out from rugby and sprints to support the team and ran a time close to his best. Jeremy Clegg ran a best time and has another year in this grade. Both of these boys were aware they were backing up Shaun Smith who was hoping for a good result. Shaun did not disappoint. He set out at the start to get away with the lead group, avoiding any tripping or shoving in the 198 strong field. The next part of the plan was to settle in for the last three km, aiming to run himself into the ground so as to get his best place possible. This he did, probably running the perfect race in taking eighth position – a superb run, with Shaun running a time faster by 56 seconds than his previous best.

Under some pressure to meet this standard, Matt Pavitt employed the same tactics as Shaun in sprinting from the line in his six km race so as to avoid any trouble in the 220 strong field. The pace did not slow down a heck of a lot – a problem for the rest of the senior team who gave too much respect to the six km distance and then found that no matter how hard they tried they couldn't give Matt a lot of support as those in front of them didn't slow as expected. At the front of the field meanwhile Matt took up a position around 13th – he knew this as well because we yelled his position out as he came past. He was travelling faster than ever before over the distance but looked in control. Over the second half his strength saw him move up four places in the last km. Coming into the home straight Matt realised he still had some kick left and threw his body into one long determined surge for the line. One other was passed and Matt kept going. He saw another and surged once more – taking seventh place on the line. A superb finish – well rewarded by selection for the NZ Sec Schools' team. The others in the team ran well but gave too much respect to the distance of six km. After three km the jovial faces and jokes were still in evidence as these boys made sure they didn't run into oxygen debt. Unfortunately, this approach doesn't work in cross-country, as positions don't change much after the first kilometre. No-one wants to slow down so saving energy for a good finish does little. The message to these boys is train the pain away – as much as you can. Push hard from the start and trust your mind and body to get you across the line. Next year!

Stream vs Town Road race for the Cahill Mug

All athletes ran the same 2.5km.

The course record is 7:15 by Simon Rogers (T) in 2007. He was in Y13 and had come 4th in the senior NZ Cross Country Champs one month prior to the race.

Wellington Road Race, Trentham

For the first time this event was run from the old CIT site in Trentham over a fast flat course through the campus. Shaun Smith maintained his fine form with second again behind his rival from Scotts College. This was a good effort as Shaun was carrying a cold. Matt Pavitt was struck down – again – by a cold and didn't finish his six km race. In the year 9 grade Steven Mitchell led our team in for the first time, with Steven Boyle just behind him. Kovaleski and Shipp were next and Scahill and Thomas Pavitt completed the A team. The second place for the team was well deserved (well Coll was absent).

| Watson     | 36  | 12:44 |           |     |       | Carson     | 26  | 25:45 |

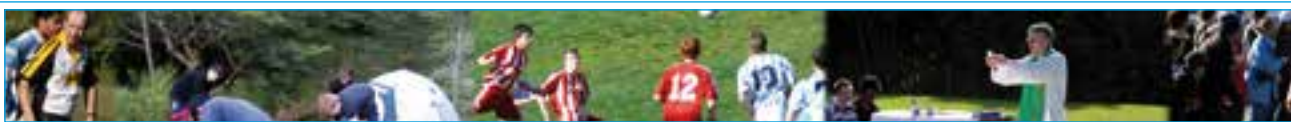

The Seniors were fourth after Matt Pavitt's non-finish. A solid performance over the six km again and enough experience for these boys to start targeting times over this distance now.

This event was marked by the poor marshalling on the course which resulted in our A team at year 9 and B team at the senior level going off-course. The individual results are given for the record. The senior A team was disappointing, coming fifth in the finish. Alister Perkinson was carrying a cold so ran in the B grade – when in fact his run was superior to two of the A team. It wasn't a great day for the Stream team!

Wanganui Relays

We returned to Wanganui for the relays after a small team attended last year. This event signals the end of the winter season and is always a great trip for all involved.

The team results were competitive, with the year 9 team missing the services of Conrad Kovaleski who had shown great form at the Wellington Road Champs and Relays. It was heartening to have two under 16 teams attending, with the A team actually doing OK!

And that was Cross-Country for another year. We had two athletes ranked in the top ten in their grade in NZ, a year 9 team ranked in the top ten and a senior team that showed glimpses of good form. With everyone back next year it means we have a chance to make improvements in all areas. Next year may be our time! Shaun will join the seniors for all racing and Talor needs a good winter. Matt Pavitt needs support and the year 13s in 2010 will have their last chance to impress. In year nine we have talent and commitment moving into the U16 grade that has a number of able 2009 year tens still in this grade. I'm looking forward to it!

Cricket First XI

The 1st XI season started on a high after winning the Premier one, one-day competition at the end of 2008. The first game of the season saw the 1st XI facing our brother school - St Patrick's College Town - in the three day traditional fixture - Henry Walsh debuting. Playing at stream, Town batted first but was put under early pressure James Renshaw taking a wicket on the second ball of the game. Excellent bowling and batting saw Stream win back the trophy in the third afternoon of play.

A rain affected start to the season, saw Stream lose four valuable weeks of cricket (luckily not all in a row), with a draw against HIBS, a rain out versus HVHS and an outright win against Kapiti. The next game of the season was another traditional against St John's competing for the Anne Houghton Memorial Cup. Stream batted first, posting a huge total of 287 with Ben Rammell scoring another 50. This was a win by nearly 200 runs to Silverstream.

The next traditional saw the 1st XI travel to Christchurch to face a strong St Bede's side. Stream batting first, was in trouble with early wickets and constant losses after that being all out in the 1st day. The next day brought high hopes for the bowlers, with excellent bowling from captain Brandon Tai, Stream was still in with a hope. Batting again in the middle stages of the second day, Stream's hopes faded being all out by the end of the day. Stream players were incredibly disappointed with their performance and with the slightest of hopes, came back on the third day to have St Bede's six down by the time they reached the Stream score.

Gillette Cup

Silverstream had high hopes this year of making it into this showpiece of schoolboy cricket The first game was against Scots College. Stream's dominance showed with Lachlan Donnelly getting 7 wickets. Three days later, stream played HVHS in the semi final. Batting first, Stream posted a competitive total, having HVHS in early trouble. Four days of constant pressure and determination by the players saw Stream off to the finals.

Gillette Cup Final

The day started with the school haka for the team. Knowing that the whole school was behind the team, Stream travelled into Wellington to play defending champions, Wellington College. Stream, was the underdog in the game, and sent Col into bat. Excellent fielding and bowling by Lachlan Donnelly, (3 for 8 off 10), gave Stream dominance with not one mistake in the field, leading to three run-outs. Getting Col all out for 81, Stream made it hard for themselves by losing early wickets to Col's fired up bowling attack. A match winning performance from Ben Rammell and Vincent Ringrose, meant that Stream made Col's total, seven down.

The winter saw the death of a very much loved and respected Mr Alvin Clement. Alvin had been involved with the College Cricket for 14 years his passing has left a gap in Silverstream cricket that can never be filled. A full turnout of present and past 1st XI Cricket members, a hat salute and a passionate school haka would have made him very proud. Alvin will always be in our memories and we miss him dearly. May he rest in peace.

Early season training and build up to the 20th annual Gillette Cup, saw Stream in quest mode for more upsets. With games against Stokes Valley's top side (Wanderers) and Taita, played in Alvin's Memory, Stream was looking set for the Gillette Cup. After losses to Town and HVHS, Stream was out of contention for winning the premier one competition so mainly focussed on the Gillette Cup.

Stream's first game in the Gillette Cup was against eventual overall winners, Christchurch Boys' High School, whom Stream bowled out for 235. Coming into bat, Stream was put under pressure and could only hope not to be bowled out for less than 100. The next day saw another disappointing batting effort, the team bowled for 116, which CBHS chased down easily. On the third day, rain affected the play and the game was reduced to 32 overs. Stream made a good start but again, couldn't capitalize with the bat and was left with 115 from the 32 overs. Hopeful Stream was beaten by ten wickets and played off for seventh and eighth. The team was sadly disappointed. Ben Rammell's broken thumb upset the batting order, resulting in another loss for Silverstream. A disappointing end to the Gillette Cup but the boys have learned from their mistakes and have grown through the experience.

This was the last game played for the school by Lachlan Donnelly, James Renshaw and Vincent Ringrose between them over 100 games for the firsts and were a major part in the successful season which was 2009.

Stream holds the St Patrick's Cup, the Houghton Cup and the Wellington Gillette Cup The First Eleven is now the team to gauge premier one on and is well rated amongst its peers.

Thank you to all parents, teachers and supporters who never gave up on us.

Special thanks to Chris Gorrie, and to all team members who have played hard and fair to keep St Patrick's Silverstream's name at the forefront of premier one cricket.

Dad

by Baden Adams

As I lie on the grass, the sun warm on my face, I hear the throaty grumble of a V8 on the road outside. The sound, loud in my ears, rattles my brain and I dream for just a minute that perhaps it could be Dad, returning home from an ordinary day at the office ...

It was never hard to figure out when Dad had arrived home. Subtlety wasn't his strong point and his grand entrances would vouch for this time and again. If you didn't hear his biting black Falcon fly up the driveway, defying gravity with every roar, then his heavy stumble up the stairway would undoubtedly give him away. No matter how hard a day he had had, I would always catch a glimpse of his smile as he threw me the usual, "Hey mate, how was school?" But before I had even responded he'd meander to the lounge, sinking himself into the couch and relieving the stress of another hard day at the office.

Resting never lasted long. Up he'd jump and out the door where he would light a trusty cancer stick and begin to suck the living day light out of it, much to Mum's disgust. "I'm giving up," he'd declare with a smile on his face. We'd both laugh as I knew deep down that he never could. Pacing around the yard he'd often run his hands through his hair as if trying to prove to me that he wasn't THAT old yet. "Don't touch it," I'd tease, "it might fall out faster."

Dad loved a good joke. Once he had satisfied his addiction he'd march into the house where the sweet smell of tobacco seemed to march along with him, a smell that to this day sends shivers up my spine.

Often I would walk into the room to be bombarded with conversation. Oil prices. Recession. Football. Dad's constant obsession with educating me about the world would eat away at my precious time. Sadly, it is only now that I am appreciating it. Though his face might have borne the storms of age, his brain never faltered and he outshone everyone around him. But he did have one big weakness – his very sweet tooth. This problem could only be soothed by one delicacy, chocolate biscuits. It wasn't an uncommon sight to find him inhaling a pack of Tim Tams all to himself. No matter how sneaky he was, I would always hear the rustle of the biscuit wrapper. Forever a guilty culprit.

Bedtime was always upon us far too quickly. With great resistance I would head to my bedroom. Not, though, before I was accused of being, "An absolute time waster," for my efforts in staying up. I too was always a guilty culprit. After a few minutes had passed the door would creak open, silent footsteps slowly creeping down to my room. Like a flash his smiling face would appear. "Night mate," he would whisper, "see you in the morning." A muffled rustle of a biscuit wrapper would then float up the stairs as he settled back into his night-time eating routine.

As morning broke Dad would be up and at'em, always in the hunt for the early worm. With a brave ready-for-work face on he'd rush off, already thinking of the struggles brought by the new day. Between the bashing and crashing of his grand exit I could just make out a, "See you after work, boy." Quick as lightning his Falcon would fly down the driveway, gradually vanishing into the distance, taking with it the noisy, the burly snarl of the engine.

But this time it was different. Instead of a warm and loving father peering at me from behind the wheel I was greeted by a vacant-eyed stranger. I strained my eyes to see through the tinted windows, but all within was dark. Finally, the door opened and a freshly-shined black boot, followed by crisp uniformed pants emerged. Without words he spoke to me. I knew. There was no way I could not. Without so much as a single word I knew what he had come to say. Months and months of confusion and worry disappeared as my life was changed in an instant.

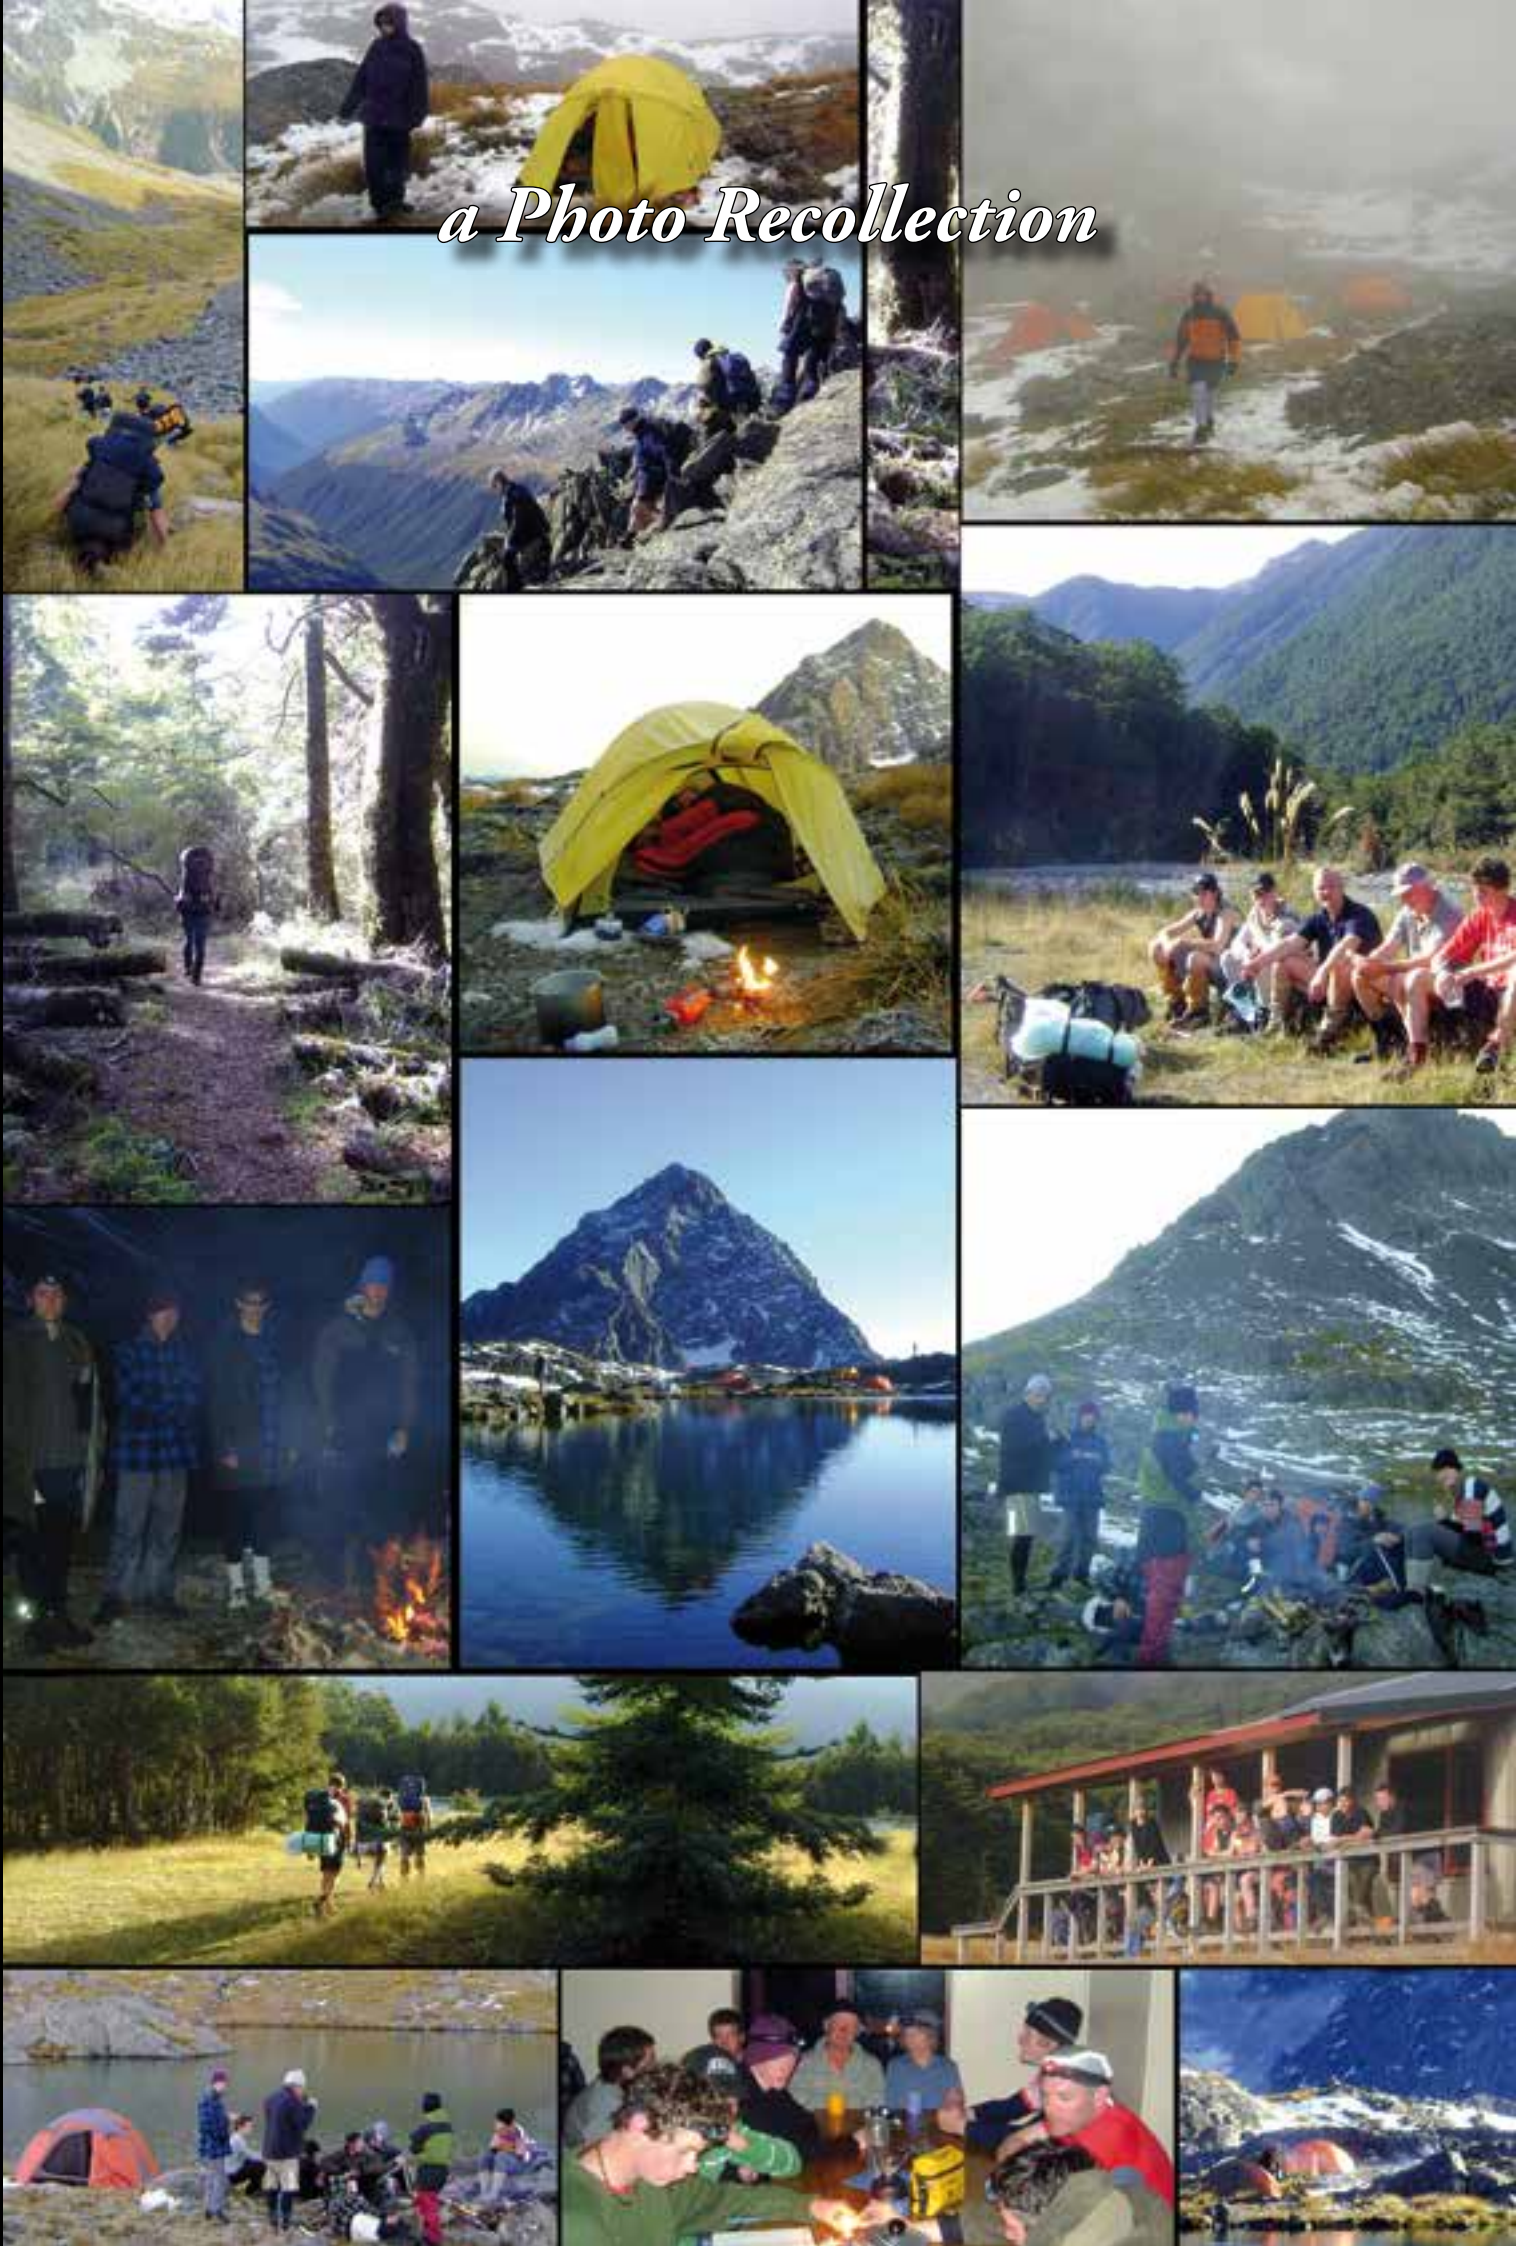

Even until this day the rustle of the biscuit wrappers still echo in my mind as I lie awake in my bed. The sweet smell of tobacco, even without its favourite partner, continues to march mischievously through the house, playing tricks with my head. For when I close my eyes, it is as though he has never left.

“Prequels and Sequels”

The tube of hard, cruel steel whistled through the air as it cut an unforgiving path towards Ali's back. The sound it made as it hit was the deadly thud of a guillotine, followed by a scream of pain.

“Pathetic Hazara!” screeched one of the turbaned attackers as he raised the pipe for another blow.

“Burn the Devil's spawn!” roared another, steadying his aim to pelt a rock at Ali's head.

Ali was in a world of pain; it lanced white hot up his back from his withered and useless leg, making every movement slow and clumsy. He tried to look up at his rock-wielding attacker, just as the sacrificial lamb stares up in horror at the descending blade. Their eyes locked, blazing fury against cold fear. The attacker cocked his arm back, narrowed his eyes and focussed on Ali's forehead. He was at most, three metres away. There was no way he could miss. His arm thrust forward and Ali closed his eyes, awaiting the inevitable. Time slowed and Ali felt every individual grain of sand under his bare feet. An eternity passed for every beat of his panicking heart. Even the smallest breath of wind on his face seemed to last a lifetime.

But the blow never came. Ali opened his eyes and saw his assailant's eyes bulge as his arm was grabbed in a vice-like grip and twisted around behind him. There was someone in the shadows, a dark silhouette. Ali's saviour. Time returned to normal as the first attacker roared in fury and leaped towards Ali's rescuer, his pipe held aloft like the sword of a Crusader. Ali did the only thing he could. He stretched out his good leg, sending bolts of pain through his body, and managed to make contact with the toe of his shoe. With a cry the attacker fell, pipe jolting out of his grasp as he sprawled in the dust. He seemed a lot less threatening as his weapon bounced towards Ali's rescuer. Ali's eyes widened in amazement as he saw the man who he thought was about to kill him suspended in the air by a dinner-plate sized hand, constricting his windpipe. Gasping and swearing the man was thrown forcefully towards the prone figure on the ground. Their heads met with the crack of a gunshot, and all was quiet in a dusty back alley in Afghanistan.

Ali turned in awe to look upon the face of his saviour. He saw the hard grey eyes, the strong chin and the bushy mane of hair and mouthed one word, “Baba”. Then his legs gave way and everything went black.

The first thing Ali noticed when he woke up was that he didn't hurt. He could feel fluffy sheets and a soft mattress, but no pain. He reached up gingerly and felt the bandage that covered his lacerated head. Sofia, Baba's wife, must have noticed the movement because at that moment she came over, her wide smile intensifying her already beautiful face.

“Ali you are awake! How do you feel? Is that cream helping with the pain?” she asked.

“Salaam 'Alaykum Sofia” Ali managed to reply, his jaw muscles struggling to form the words “It— it is wonderful. Th— thank you”.

Sofia smiled “I will go fetch Baba, he wants to see you”.

Ali tried to sit up, but found his back would not obey him. Baba, he thought, my friend. My brother. How could he ever repay him?

“Ali!” came the booming greeting “I see you are well. Those racist thugs will not mess with us again huh!”

“Baba, I cannot thank you enough” Ali began.

“Oh don't mention it!” roared Baba “They're not so scary without those sticks in their dirty mitts are they?! You're just lucky Rahim wasn't with me, he's not as compassionate. Seriously though Ali, I knew you would never miss evening prayers so I went out to look for you. I heard them yelling those – things – that they say to you, and I hate it when they do that, you know I do.” Baba's eyes softened as he bought a glass of chilled fruit juice to Ali's lips. “My friend I have some great news; your wife, she is with child”. It took a great effort from Ali to stop himself spurring juice all over Baba.

“With child!?” he spluttered “But I thought that was impossible!”

“Insha'Allah. God-willing, nothing is impossible”

Ali was overcome with so many emotions he didn't know where to begin. “So I am not – you know – that means I can have, um...” he trailed off as the full enormity of Baba's words hit him.

“Yes Ali, you can have children” smiled Baba. His gaze seemed to be focussed on some point just above Ali's head, rather than maintaining his usual resolute eye contact. “I will leave you now friend, you need to rest. Sleep well my brother” The door closed with a soft click, and Ali was left alone. A child, he thought. The one thing I have so longed for, but thought forever out of reach. A silent tear crept down his cheek. As he drifted off to sleep, one final thought crossed his mind. Insha'Allah. God-willing. That was what Baba had said.

But Baba didn't believe in God.

The Illusionists

by Jason Pather – Year 12

Not the brave fireman,
Nor the valiant soldier,
But heroic in their own right.

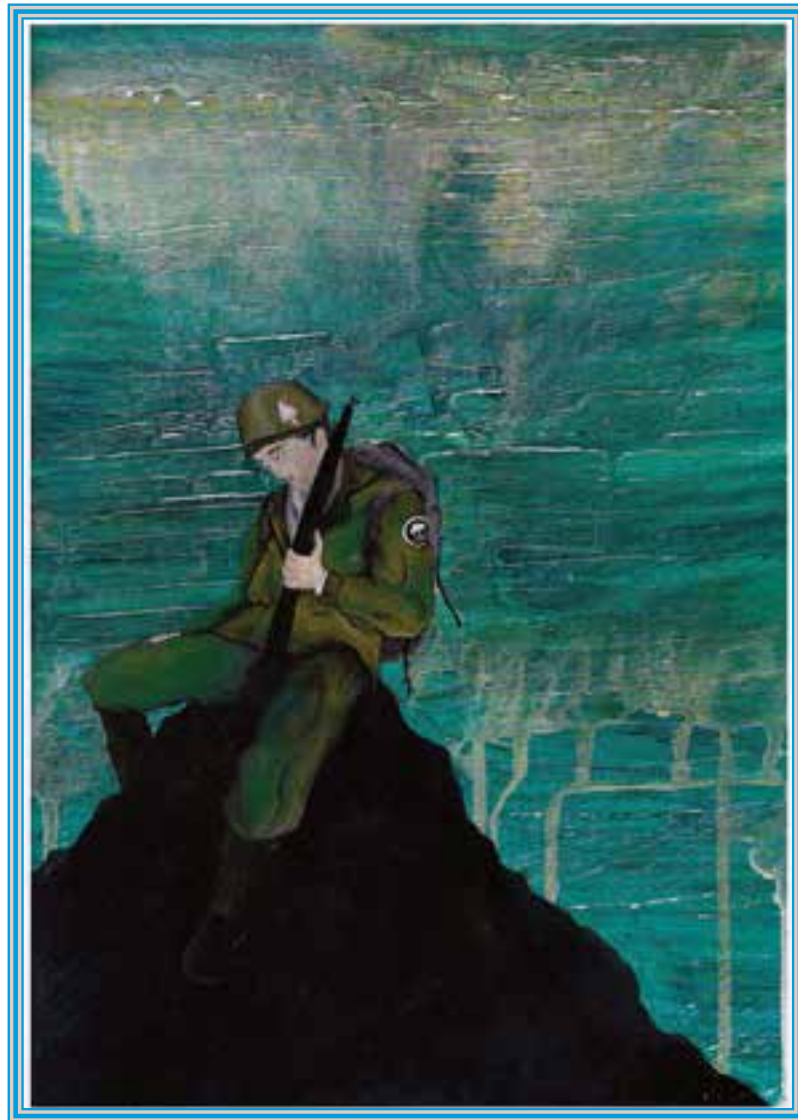

They don't put out flames, they light them
They don't follow leaders, they fight them.

They watch on TV wars they have started,
They face no blame as soldiers are martyred,

Misusing misproportionately
Misinforming misleadingly
But always, always mistakenly;

*Like hypnotists they change "no" to "yes"
Change "right" to "wrong", then back again.
Acrobats on a tightrope of words,
Each and supported by strangers.
Voice is their weapon, and pen their shield,
The truth is what they will fight for.
As long as the truth will fight for them
When their fate's in the hands of their country.*

Could we hang our lives on the thinnest of threads?
And pray that our words don't unravel?
